Talks Will End Today

President, Macmillan Reported In Accord On Berlin, A-Tests, Congo

Talks Hint U.S. A-Tests May Resume

President, Premier Reluctant On Move, Report Indicates

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in their first five-hour talk here may have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the United States must soon resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Macmillan's spokesman told newsmen that "the President and the prime minister heard a presentation by their experts on the subject of the recent Soviet tests."

He was asked whether the discussion included the possibility of resumption of tests in the atmosphere. He declined to "go into the substance of the discussion." And White House press secretary Pierre Salinger quickly added that the discussion "centered on the report from nuclear experts of both governments on the recent Soviet tests."

Salinger was asked if the President requested these reports so he could make a judgment on what policy the United States would pursue. Salinger replied the President's statements on the whole question were clear and still stand.

The tenor of the President's statements in recent weeks on testing has been that it might be necessary to resume above-ground tests in the interest of national security.

A decision to resume testing might be a difficult message for Macmillan to bring home to fall-out-fearful Britain and Europe. It may be one of those hard decisions which is broken to the world public gradually.

On Berlin, too, there are apparent differences. Macmillan's spokesman said there was complete agreement there also, but Salinger qualified this by saying the agreement was on "the subjects discussed which are . . . steps which can be taken in this particular field."

WALLS OF THE CERAMIC THEATER, like the walls of Jericho, are tumbling down today, but unlike the Biblical story a "headache ball," shown in the circle, is being used to batter down small sections at a time. The 110-foot boom is swung gently by the crane to provide impetus for the heavy cast iron ball. The M. & S. Wrecking Co. of Youngstown is demolishing the building under a contract with the city to clear the site for a new municipal parking lot.

2 Leaders Expected To Delve Into Other World Situations

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan today were reported in complete agreement on their next steps in the Berlin crisis, the results of the recent Soviet nuclear tests and the little they know about the confused Congo situation.

The two leaders of the Western alliance were expected to go deeper into all three situations, and others as well, in further talks before Kennedy flies back to Palm Beach, Fla., late today to the bedside of his seriously ill father.

They conferred for five hours in their first session Thursday and there was every indication that the atmosphere was harmonious. But their spokesmen emphasized that each subject was discussed only to a limited extent.

In their talk on Berlin, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said, Kennedy and Macmillan concurred on "steps that can be taken in this particular field." Informants said this meant the position the West should take in trying to negotiate a peaceful solution with Moscow.

The next step, it was agreed in Paris at the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting last week, will be talks by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Moscow to determine if there is a chance for formal negotiations on a new Berlin agreement.

But informants said they still must decide on a further approach to Moscow; whether, for example, to work toward a foreign ministers' meeting and ultimately an East-West summit.

They also must discuss ways to bring French President Charles de Gaulle around. De Gaulle in-

Man Injured Badly By Car At Wellsville

Vernon Howell, 48, Pedestrian, Is In 'Critical' Condition

A 48-year-old Wellsville man is in "critical" condition today in the Osteopathic Hospital with severe injuries suffered when struck by a car Thursday night in Wellsville.

Vernon T. Howell, 2401 Buckeye Ave., suffered compound fractures of both legs, a fractured right upper arm, possible internal injuries and facial lacerations.

He was struck when he stepped into the path of a north-bound car operated by Mrs. Helen M. Carter, 36, of 1820 Chester Ave., Wellsville, police said.

The accident was witnessed by Patrolman P. J. Ranch of the Wintersville Post of the Ohio State Highway Patrol.

The officer said Howell was crossing from west to east when struck at 9:43 some 55 feet north of 25th St. near the McLain Refractories Division plant of the H. K. Porter Co.

No charges were filed against the driver, according to Wellsville police and the Wintersville Patrol.

Howell, former brick plant worker, is an unemployed potter.

In a mishap Thursday at 2:30 p. m. on 3rd St, the south-bound car of Arthur E. Roberts, 23, of Hammondsville was struck in the rear by another driven by James Pickett, 30, of Shadyside Ave. Damage was minor, police reported.

Weatherman Doubtful On White Christmas

The Ohio weatherman indicated doubt today about prospects for a White Christmas.

Occasional light snow was forecast for this afternoon with a more general fall tonight but the five-day forecast contains a prediction of occasional rain and snow through Monday. The snow will change to flurries Saturday.

But the weather will be cold with temperatures averaging three to seven degrees below normal. It will be colder Saturday, warmer Monday and colder Tuesday and Wednesday. Today's high range will be 30 to 36 and tonight's low 26 to 32.

Order Eases 'Wrong Way' Parking Rule

For the next 90 days, police will not ticket motorists for "wrong way" parking in residential districts, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Chief Americo J. Radeschi said in a joint order issued today.

The order is timed to take effect today and continue through March 22 under a city ordinance that gives the chief and the director authority to make temporary changes in traffic or parking regulations for periods not to exceed 90 days.

Similar orders have been issued annually for the last four or five years to assure that motorists will not be given tickets for parking their cars headed downgrade on hilly streets to enable

Safe Robbers 'Bungle' Job In East End

Intruders Foiled In Trying To Cut Into Walk-In Type Safe

Amateurish burglars failed in an attempt to force open a huge walk-in type safe early today at the Interstate Motor Freight System garage and warehouse on Pennsylvania Ave. — the former Valley Motor Transit Co. barn, police reported.

Using the company's own acetylene torch, the intruders attempted to cut through the metal wall of the safe around the handle that opens the door after the combination has been manipulated, police reported.

Then, using a hammer and crowbar from the garage, they battered at the combination dial and the handle and attempted to force open the door.

But the huge safe resisted all the efforts, which Capt. Robert H. Pyle described as "definitely amateurish." As far as could be determined pending an inventory, nothing was missing from the big brick building, officers reported. Most deliveries of holiday merchandise already have been completed, they explained.

The torch and the other tools were left behind. The big safe was used by the former bus company to store tickets and fare boxes. It sits in an offset in the main office at the front of the building, overlooking Pennsylvania Ave.

The intruders may have used a blanket to shield the bright glare of the cutting torch from passersby on the busy street, police said. The metal - cutting job

Directs Plea To Rulers

Pope Appeals For Peace In Christmas Message

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII in his fourth Christmas message Thursday night combined a plea for peace with an appeal for more equitable sharing of the world's wealth.

The 80-year-old pontiff directed his appeals to "the rulers of nations, who today hold in their hands the fate of mankind."

The Vatican Radio today broadcast the annual message of the head of the Roman Catholic Church in scores of languages to all parts of the world, including the Communist East and troubled Africa.

There was hope in the message, but there was anxiety too.

"Shun all thought of force," the pontiff urged world rulers. "Think of the tragedy of initiating a chain reaction of acts, decisions, resentments that could erupt into rash and irreparable deeds."

He expressed a "heartfelt appeal that all those who control the economic forces should risk everything—but not the peace of the world and the lives of men — (and) seek every means that modern progress has put at their disposal to increase the welfare and security of the world."

Plane Crash Fatal To 27

4 Americans Safe In Turkey Crackup

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A British Comet-4 jet airliner Thursday crashed and burned shortly after taking off from Ankara airport Thursday night, killing 27 of the 34 persons aboard.

Four Americans were among the seven survivors. It was believed they were the only Americans aboard.

All the survivors were sitting in a rear section of the cabin that came through the crash almost intact.

The British European Airways jet was flying from London to Tel Aviv, Israel.

The Americans pulled alive from the wreckage were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Joseph Goldman, believed to be from Roslyn Heights, N.Y.; Doris Mae Freudenberger, Bethlehem, Pa., a teacher in the U.S. Armed Forces School in Turkey who was flying to Cyprus and Israel for a Christmas vacation; and Arnold Holtzman, whose address was not immediately known.

All suffered burns and shock but the airline said their chances of recovery were good.

'Bootleg' Bet Case Set For March Jury

Federal Panel At Martinsburg Will Air Race Arrests

A federal grand jury is expected to consider in March the cases of six men nabbed Wednesday by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for "bootlegging" race results from the Waterford Park race track.

Led by Bernard C. Brown of the Pittsburgh office, the agents swooped down on two alleged gambling establishments in Weirton and Wheeling in one of the largest raids of its kind in West Virginia.

U.S. Atty. Robert E. Maxwell said at Wheeling the next grand jury is scheduled to begin March 13 in Martinsburg.

He said that no special grand jury will be called to hear the cases.

Arrested in the simultaneous raids in Weirton and Wheeling were:

Carl Yaquinta, 30, Harold O. Allen, 41, and Albert M. Downing, 34, all of Wheeling; Philip J. Hankish, 26, of Martins Ferry, and Nick Vuckovich, 51, and Louis Gresko, 42, both of Weirton.

Yaquinta is considered by the FBI as "the principal in the case." He was released under $10,000 bond following a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Nell Morgan at Wheeling. The others posted bonds of $5,000.

The six are charged with illegal interstate transmission of horse wagering information by radio and telephone through East Liverpool from Waterford Park to

Much Better, Cardinal Says Of Kennedy

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing visited his old friend, ailing Joseph P. Kennedy, today and reported the President's father was very much improved, and had spoken to him.

The cardinal, who is from Kennedy's home city of Boston, said he had told Kennedy, a former ambassador to Great Britain:

"My dear friend, Mr. Ambassador, keep up your courage. We're all praying for you. You're going to be all right."

And, to this, he said the 73-year-old Kennedy, who has been partly paralyzed from a blood clot on the brain, replied: "I know I am."

$4,686 More Sought For Community Fund

Heading into the final week of the year, Community Fund officers are attempting to secure $4,686 before the campaign is closed in order to reach the goal of $77,600.

Richard Emmerling, chairman, asked firms which have envelopes that haven't been picked up to contact Carl Wener at the YMCA by calling either FU. 5-0663 or FU. 5-2082. Arrangements will be made to pick up all outstanding potential contributions.

"If the contributions outstanding equal the amounts given last year by the same firms, the goal will be reached," Emmerling said.

Many things have contributed to the failure of workers to reach the goal, Emmerling said, but the failure to follow up on collection of envelopes and pledge cards was the greatest reason.

Adoula Issues Warning

Katanga Due To Honor Unity Accord Wednesday

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula says next Wednesday is the deadline for Katanga to honor President Moise Tshombe's unity commitment—and there'll be trouble if it doesn't.

The chief of the Congo's central government told newsmen Friday his regime will take energetic actions to see that the eight-point agreement be signed with the secessionist leader is respected.

Tshombe said on his return to Elisabethville, his U. N.-occupied capital, that the agreement to end Katanga's secession was subject to ratification by his Cabinet and Assembly—"and that cannot be done for at least 10 days."

Adoula declared, however, that Tshombe had undertaken to send Katanga deputies and senators to the Congolese Parliament and start the unification process by Dec. 27.

Both government quarters here and Belgians in Elisabethville said they expect the United Nations to enforce the agreement, again resorting to force if necessary.

The Congo's information minister, Joseph Ileo, declared after the Boy Allergic To Pine; Aluminum Tree Sent

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) — Steven Strube, 6, yearned for a big green pine tree to decorate for Christmas. But his brother, Scott, 2, is allergic to pine trees.

A sympathetic "Santa Claus" came to the rescue Thursday, sending the George Strube family a surprise gift—an aluminum tree.

Serious Responsibility

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Ralph Sprinkle, president of the North Carolina State Employes Association, didn't let injuries sustained in an auto accident keep him from voting in a bond issue referendum. An ambulance took him to the polling place.

Postal Department Lauds Mail Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department said proudly today that its blue-clad Santas are carrying out the largest, most successful delivery of Christmas mail in history.

In the first 20 days of December, 9.5 billion pieces of mail passed through their hands.

This was 5.7 per cent more than last year and receipts were up about $5 million to $172.1 million.

The total incoming and outgoing mail handled for the Christmas season should easily exceed 11 billion pieces, the department said.

Youths Get Probation In Theft Of Chickens

NEW CUMBERLAND — Three teen-age boys were placed on probation for three months for stealing three chickens at a hearing today before Squire John D. Herron and John Grossi, Hancock County juvenile officer.

An 18 - year- old, and two 17-year - olds were charged with stealing fowl from the coop of Walter Swain of near New Cumberland.

Group Holds Yule Meeting

A discussion of world topics featured a meeting of the Southern Jets Farm Bureau Council of rural Wellsville Thursday night.

Thirteen adults and seven youngsters attended the Christmas meeting with Mr. and Mrs James Hogue of Salineville R.D. 1.

Topics included the United Nations, military strength of the U.S. and production of farmers.

Mrs. Ruth Frischkorn led the discussion of the U.N., pointing out the cost of operation of the world governing body in 1961 was $1.04 for each U.S. citizen. She pointed out the organization intervened 29 times in world affairs the past year.

Conclusions reached by the group after discussion was that "more support is needed for cooperative stores, prayers for Nikita S. Khrushchev, and more strength for the U.N."

Herbert Frischkorn, president, presided. Mrs. Laura Meyer gave the secretary's report. The Rev. Joseph Varner led devotions, commenting on the Christmas story in the Bible.

Santa Claus distributed gifts and refreshments were served by the hostess. Next meeting will be announced later.

Women 'Above Par' In Indoor Golf Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Developer of a new indoor golf game, David Bremson, says, "women are simply better players."

Bremson thinks it's something about the female feel for precise detail. The game hinges on picking the right golf club to use in situations determined by the draw of a card.

"When it's a cardboard course, and the only clubs in sight are in a deck of playing cards, the male advantage of strength disappears," Bremson says.

Kennedy

nedy had been reported able to talk. Previous reports from his doctors had indicated that he was unable to speak but he could recognize members of his family.

The cardinal said that he had cautioned his old friend not to say anything more so that he would not use up his reserve strength.

The cardinal visited some 20 minutes in the hospital on his way home from Lima, Peru.

When reporters asked Cardinal Cushing about the fact that Kennedy had spoken to him, when all prior reports had been that the patient was unable to speak, he explained Kennedy "says a word or two, but they don't want him to keep speaking or tire himself out."

The cardinal's summing up of the situation was, "I think he's very much improved."

One of the ailing Kennedy's sons, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had spent the night at St. Mary's Hospital after returning from a quick trip to Washington. He had gone back to the capital for one day after a hurried trip here when his father was stricken.

An 8 a.m. bulletin from the team of physicians attending the elder Kennedy said:

"Mr. Kennedy spent a good night, resting comfortably. His condition is unchanged."

Dr. Marco Johannsen, chief attending physician, said Thursday night his patient was "a little better." At the same time the doctor described himself as "more satisfied."

The President will return to his father's bedside tonight from his overnight conference in Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Meanwhile, other members of the Kennedy family have kept a constant vigil in the wing of St. Mary's Hospital where Joseph Kennedy occupies Room 335.

There have been a number of conflicting statements from official sources regarding the elder Kennedy's condition.

Dr. Johannsen, emerging from a look at his patient at 11:30 p.m., gave the first firm report that Kennedy had improved.

His right side was still partially paralyzed and he was unable to talk. But he has been able to recognize members of his family.

Before Dr. Johannsen's hopeful comment, the latest official medical bulletin had been issued at 6:50 p.m. by Kennedy's youngest son, Edward M. Kennedy.

It said only: "Mr. Kennedy's condition had not changed significantly. He is resting quietly." Asked if he thought there was any improvement, young Kennedy said, "There's nothing that would indicate a significant change."

But even at that time, when pressed by reporters, Dr. Johannsen, a German-born internist, smilingly lapsed into French phrases like "un soupcon" and "un peu" to disclose that a little improvement had been noted.

Fill drained canned peach halves with mincemeat and bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes or until the fruit is thoroughly hot. Serve with whipped cream.

Pope

To mankind as a whole, Pope John said: "All humanity must be good . . . just, upright, generous, disinterested, willing to understand and to forgive. . . ."

He spoke with concern of current world strife where "man is no longer brother, good, merciful and loving, to his fellow man, but has become a stranger, calculating, suspicious and selfish."

But the pontiff held out this hope: "We cannot believe that the terrific energy now under the control of man will be released for the world's destruction. For side by side with elements of fear and apprehension, there are positive signs of goodwill that is constructive and productive of good."

There's a federal law which forbids defacing United States coins. However, it is legal to melt coins and change them so they cannot be recognized as money.

When reporters asked Cardinal Cushing about the fact that Kennedy had spoken to him, when all prior reports had been that the patient was unable to speak, he explained Kennedy "says a word or two, but they don't want him to keep speaking or tire himself out."

The cardinal's summing up of the situation was, "I think he's very much improved."

One of the ailing Kennedy's sons, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had spent the night at St. Mary's Hospital after returning from a quick trip to Washington. He had gone back to the capital for one day after a hurried trip here when his father was stricken.

An 8 a.m. bulletin from the team of physicians attending the elder Kennedy said:

"Mr. Kennedy spent a good night, resting comfortably. His condition is unchanged."

Dr. Marco Johannsen, chief attending physician, said Thursday night his patient was "a little better." At the same time the doctor described himself as "more satisfied."

The President will return to his father's bedside tonight from his overnight conference in Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Meanwhile, other members of the Kennedy family have kept a constant vigil in the wing of St. Mary's Hospital where Joseph Kennedy occupies Room 335.

There have been a number of conflicting statements from official sources regarding the elder Kennedy's condition.

Dr. Johannsen, emerging from a look at his patient at 11:30 p.m., gave the first firm report that Kennedy had improved.

His right side was still partially paralyzed and he was unable to talk. But he has been able to recognize members of his family.

Before Dr. Johannsen's hopeful comment, the latest official medical bulletin had been issued at 6:50 p.m. by Kennedy's youngest son, Edward M. Kennedy.

It said only: "Mr. Kennedy's condition had not changed significantly. He is resting quietly." Asked if he thought there was any improvement, young Kennedy said, "There's nothing that would indicate a significant change."

But even at that time, when pressed by reporters, Dr. Johannsen, a German-born internist, smilingly lapsed into French phrases like "un soupcon" and "un peu" to disclose that a little improvement had been noted.

Fill drained canned peach halves with mincemeat and bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes or until the fruit is thoroughly hot. Serve with whipped cream.

Pope

To mankind as a whole, Pope John said: "All humanity must be good . . . just, upright, generous, disinterested, willing to understand and to forgive. . . ."

He spoke with concern of current world strife where "man is no longer brother, good, merciful and loving, to his fellow man, but has become a stranger, calculating, suspicious and selfish."

But the pontiff held out this hope: "We cannot believe that the terrific energy now under the control of man will be released for the world's destruction. For side by side with elements of fear and apprehension, there are positive signs of goodwill that is constructive and productive of good."

There's a federal law which forbids defacing United States coins. However, it is legal to melt coins and change them so they cannot be recognized as money.

An Act Of Faith In Today

In his valedictory as editor of The Saturday Evening Post Ben Hibbs has penned a challenge to stand up and talk and act like Americans.

"We Americans have become so sensitive about what the rest of the world thinks of us," observes editor Hibbs, "that we are now inclined to lie down and roll over whenever the finger of criticism is pointed our way."

Some of the criticism is justified, the retiring editor says, and he reminds his readers they read a good share of criticism in The Post under his editorship.

"But in the name of heaven," he implores, "let us remember that we still have a great deal to be proud of."

His point is so well-made and so well-reasoned it can be used by every American who feels the same way.

EDITOR HIBBS thinks the problem is to revive the fierce pride and stubborn courage of the early settlers.

He recalls that in his youth on the Kansas prairies 50 years ago there was an atmosphere of challenge "which gave meaning to life, put some purpose into toil and struggle, fired the soul of many a young man with a consuming desire to 'be somebody.'"

Ben Hibbs or anyone else tempted to generalize widely about the loss of a precious quality is always in danger of overdoing it. Not all of us can agree with him that something is missing—something once good and now gone. Perhaps we've been looking at different evidence.

We can agree, however, that something is different and this can be misleading. "I think it is high time that we all start saying a few kind words about Uncle Sam," he declares, and some of us can declare just as resolutely that it's high time we start saying more kind words about the kind of people who are keeping Uncle Sam in the running.

IT ONCE WAS the practice in this country to single out the "comers" for special praise and hasten them along their way. And there was an easy assumption that "comers" would keep on coming—that there was room at the top and worthy candidates for the top places.

But in recent years even the best of our young people are fortunate if they are not tarred with the brush that disgruntled oldsters wave at everything they mistrust, including the rising generation. They single out bad examples with psychopathic relish and croak triumphantly and tediously about the rising tide of "juvenile delinquency."

We do not say that editor Hibbs is a disgruntled oldster. But we hope he didn't mean to leave room for an inference that he thinks things have gone from good to bad in his lifetime and there's no prospect of going from bad to better without doing the impossible; namely, to revive circumstances that has gone from us forever. We must live today and tomorrow, not yesterday.

What we need, Mr. Hibbs, is to create a spirit for the future, and the place to start is to tell our best young people that they are the best ever.

And the reason for telling them this wouldn't be only to spruce up their morale. Disgruntled oldsters to the contrary notwithstanding, it's true.

Standing up and talking like an American is an act of faith in today, not a review of faith by hindsight in yesterday.

A program to help waitresses, service station attendants and others in contact with the public in West Virginia to be more helpful, informative and mannerly has been endorsed by the West Virginia Centennial Commission.

Plans call for establishing workshops throughout the state to train personnel who will come in contact with visitors during the 1963 Centennial.

There are, fortunately, many motels, restaurants and business establishments in Hancock County where courtesy could not be improved, where there is always a willingness to do that something extra that makes the traveler at home.

But there are some places in West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania where service is marked by carelessness, coolness and devotion to the coin.

Any plan to improve these social - business relationships should be welcomed by any employe or operator who not only has pride in what he is doing but wants to improve his business and his income.

West Virginia's attention to this matter should not be overlooked by her neighboring states.

The Eternal Hope Of Revolution

Rumors of significant revolutionary activity in Cuba seem likely to stay in the rumor stage indefinitely.

Castro's revolution stayed in the rumor stage until the revolutionists had picked up enough followers to make overthrow of the Batista government a certainty. Even then, it was not taken at face value until Batista fled.

If Cuba has another revolution, to overthrow Castro as Castro overthrew Batista, it will be as difficult to know about the progress of the fighting. It will be more difficult to fight, because Castro heads a Communist regime, and security from internal trouble is a Communist specialty.

Whatever Batista was capable of doing to maintain himself—and it was ruthless and brutal—Castro and his regime will be capable of doing twice as much. They have been guarding themselves ever since they came to power. That is the meaning of the executions they have carried out. It is the reason for the guns and the terror.

Cuba is a police state. All Communist countries become police states by virtue of being members of the Communist Conspiracy. Their first and greatest concern is to purge the population of all actual and potential sources of revolutionary leadership. If they overlook enough troublemakers to let trouble get started, they redouble their purging, as they did in Hungary after the uprising and as they did in East Germany before that.

It would take a military miracle to upset Castro as Castro upset Batista, because Castro is militarily stronger and his regime is protected by Communist know-how for handling internal trouble. And even if the miracle were in the making at this moment, no one would know about it. There would be nothing but rumors until the fateful moment when a Russian jet transport whisked Fidel Castro to anonymity.

Sidewalk superintendents are having a field day as the "headache ball" goes to work on the brick walls of the former Ceramic Theater.

While the thud of the giant ball must stir countless memories for those who remember the Ceramic in its heyday, at the same time it holds nothing but utter fascination for those who look on the project as just another wrecking venture.

The Sidewalk Superintendents Association is one of our oldest non-profit organizations. There are no dues, only hours of interesting watching for faithful attendance.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The reactions of an exhausted Christmas shopping season salesgirl to a Visit from St. Nicholas fascinates us each year. So we come through with her thoughts. The salesgirl has just fallen into bed when she speaks:

My stockin's, a little the worse for the wear,
Was hung on the back of a three-legged chair;
I'd worked in a store through the holiday strife,
And was plannin' to sleep for the rest of my life.

When up from the airshaft there came such a clatter
I leaped out of bed to see what was the matter;
When what to my dead-with-sleep eyes did appear
But a semi-pro sleigh and eight small time reindeer!
And who should be drivin' right up to the door
But one of them masquerade guys from the store!

And then in a twinklin' I heard on the roof
The prancin' an' pawin' of meat on the hoof;
(Just imagine my feelings, with sleep nearly dead —
And some sap with an animal act overhead!)

As I drew in my neck and was turnin' around
Down the chimney my visitor came with a bound;
He was chubby, good natured and oozin' with glee,
But I ask you, dear reader, what was it to me?
The point that I made is 'twas then 2 o'clock,
And a man in my room without stoppin' to knock!

I was thinkin' how noivy he was and how slick
When he says to me, "Lady, I'm only St. Nick."
Well, a poor tired store slave in no mood for fun,
I gave him a look and I asked him, "WHICH ONE?"

"Merry Christmas!" he called as away his deers flew,
And I just gave a yawn and I answers, "SEZ YOU!"

CURRENT SLOGAN: "Promise her anything, but give her the Christmas bundles to tote home."

A. C. Gilbert, just out of college, rented a shack and began building magic sets for children. His wealthy father opposed it. He wanted boy to be a doctor. "There's no future in what you plan," he warned. The other day four million was paid for a controlling interest in A. C. Gilbert Corporation by Wratham Corp. of California.

Gilbert was famed as first builder of Erector sets, and expanded into many profitable lines. Interesting fact is that magic was a boyhood hobby and people used to say he was wasting time as kid, when he gave a magician's show at the old Hyperion Theater across from the Yale campus.

Believe it or not Broadway has a show producing company called Precarious Productions Corp.

Fidel Continues U.S. Trade

By Victor Riesel

PORT EVERGLADES, FLA. Fidel Castro who hates our capitalism loves our capitalist dollars and is getting scores of millions in United States cash through wide open trade with American merchants ranging from here to Tampa northward to New York City. I've been covering the waterfront here, talking to seafarers and longshoremen. They tell me, and I've observed for myself, that it is simple for the Fidelista State Export Corporation to dump goods into the United States.

Victor Riesel

The Communist Havana government uses converted (LSTs), old Navy landing barges, big scows, old train ferries and contracts out with an American steamship line which runs two regular sailings from Tampa to Cuba.

This open trade pours millions of dollars, even at this late day, worth of fruit, vegetables, canned goods, tobacco leaf, ginger and other commodities into ports such as this one and up the Gulf Coast line to Mobile, Ala.

No American union sailor will man the ships and no union longshoreman will unload them. But work gangs are picked up and sail and unload the craft on the short run.

THE TOBACCO shipment alone comes to $30 million annually and the rest more than matches this amount.

In turn, Castro's government uses the cash literally to bolster his war machine. Since the first of the year he has been buying millions of dollars worth of lard in the United States and turning a good part of it into nitroglycerine, a war explosive ingredient.

He has bought and has shipped from the United States via these same routes huge quantities of machinery.

Among this equipment have been Diesel engines which can easily be converted into motors for military tanks. There has been $400,000 worth of machinery and vehicles and spare parts for trucks, autos and aircraft.

He has used American dollars to buy electronic equipment and even television receivers for his propaganda — agit-prop — network.

Most of the Havana tobacco leaf comes in on two ships which sail regularly between Tampa and Havana — the Privateer and the Tropic Sea.

These are owned by W. M. Trader Line, Inc. of Tampa. Each makes a round-trip run a week. The line increased its sailings recently because of the heavy demand for Havana leaf — which keeps the 5,000-man cigar industry alive in that Florida city.

HOWEVER, last weekend it developed that the line also is carrying other Cuba cargo. This is legal because there has been no U.S. embargo on trading with the Castro isle.

Last weekend the line's Tropic Sea brought into Tampa 33,500 pounds of ginger preserved in syrup in 61 casks. The shipment was worth $10,000. It belonged to Impresa Cubana de Exportacion, the official Cuban state export agency. The cargo was assigned to a New York firm.

This is the first report of Cuban ginger being dumped into the United States. It indicates that the economically strangling Havana government, which last week broadcast threats to President Kennedy, is increasing its trade with us.

All this is searing the hearts of Cuban labor leaders with whom I've been meeting here. Bitterly they report that word spreads from the militant anti-Castro waterfront workers in Havana to the underground and the anti-Communist activists in the fishing co-ops, the sugar plantations and refineries.

This word of business with the United States is hurting our prestige and spreading disgust through the underground.

AMONG THE 120,000 or so Cuban refugees here, there are many factions — but the closest knit are the labor exiles, who maintain some of the best contacts inside Cuba.

In Miami are the leaders and their aides of 26 former Cuban labor federations — including the sugar workers, the motion picture projection machine operators, the textile and garment workers, construction and electrical trades.

Their people inside Cuba are in strategic positions for sabotage and the spread of anti-Communist indoctrination. Some of these labor men get in and out of Cuba by fast boat. Everybody here seems to know this. But they get bitter.

They tell you of the Soviet-type block - by - block, village - by - village, co-op-by-co-op type of secret informer system Castro has in operation.

They tell you, for example, of the taxi and auto surveillance system used by the Communist police. The secret police watch taxis and cars for flashing lights. This is a signal to follow the car to the hiding place of underground anti-Castro suspects.

Then we get back to Miami, one exile leader told me: "We find the Castro regime being bolstered by U.S. dollar sales and imports. Our people hear of this and they believe they are being deceived. It doesn't make sense, this policy of yours."

It doesn't. Especially when our government is asking our Cuban friends to gamble their lives.

U.N. Took A Belting

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON The United Nations got a belting this year for what it did or failed to do. But it operated as any representative assembly could be expected to, including the American Congress.

From any adult and realistic view it couldn't be expected to please everybody all the time.

On any given issue the 104 U.N. member nations voted unanimously or broke up into special interest — or selfish — groups to carry a point or try to block it for their own particular reasons.

And, from the viewpoint of its own special interests, this country had a lot to be satisfied with in the U.N. session which ended this week. Some examples of a representative group in action:

The Asian-African bloc stood together on racial and colonial issues but split on political ones. There were also neutral blocs, Communist blocs, Western blocs, each looking out for its own interests.

This could have been predicted without looking further than American history.

In Congress Southern Democrats down through the years formed a bloc—on civil rights, for instance — when they broke off from a majority of their party. On some other issues they voted solidly as party regulars.

And, carrying the example further, groups in both the Democratic and Republican parties, like liberals or conservatives, cross party lines to join their like-minded colleagues on a specific issue.

The U.N. could explode and fall apart for a number of reasons, but always depending on what the special interest alignments happen to be at any one moment. This country exploded in civil war once for that reason.

Nor would it be outside the American experience if one or more U.N. members refused to abide by a majority decision — as has been the case.

The American Senate, for instance, has jealously established and protected the privilege of any member or group of members to try to block the will of the majority by a filibuster.

But at least in Congress once the will of the majority has been established — by a final vote — those who disagree accept the verdict, more or less.

In the U.N., still only 16 years old, there have been rejections of the majority view which show either sheer wilfulness or immaturity, even on the part of old nations which by now should be grown up.

For example:

The U.N. banged into a financial crisis in the session which ended this week—it surmounted this by approving a $200-million bond issue—because some members would not pay their share of certain expenses.

The expenses were for U.N. operations against Katanga in the Congo and for the emergency force which the world set up in the Middle East after the Suez crisis of 1956.

The Communists, France, Belgium, Portugal, South Africa and most of the Arab states in one or both cases refused to pay their share.

The United States was sorely troubled when earlier this week the U.N. Security Council—thanks to a Soviet veto and the opposition of Egypt, Ceylon and Liberia —failed to rebuke India for attacking Portuguese Goa.

This country, because of its own view and interests, had a lot to be satisfied about in actions like these:

The U.N. overcame what looked for a while like a total wrecking operation—when the Soviet Union tried to create three secretaries-general instead of one — by appointing an acting secretary for another year and some months.

The U.N. refused to open the door to membership for Red China. It rebuked the Chinese communists for their treatment of the people of Tibet and the Soviet Union for its conduct in Hungary.

And, despite criticism even within the United States for using force to push secessionist Katanga Province back into the Republic of the Congo, the U.N. seems to have brought peace there, if only temporarily.

In addition: the United States and the Soviet Union were able to agree on laying the ground for negotiations on disarmament and the peaceful exploration of outer space.

Back To Dark Ages

By David Lawrence

India's Aggression Cripples Quest For Peace

India has turned the clock back several centuries to espouse the doctrine that might makes right. No longer is India "non-aligned." It now is aligned with the aggressors — the Soviet Union and Red China — in grabbing near - by territory and arguing that it is merely following "the tide of history." The theft of the Portuguese province of Goa by India's military forces indeed has put a black mark on the pages of history.

David Lawrence

What is to happen to Mr. Nehru's cause if Red China starts moving across the Tibetan border to invade India or uses his argument to justify a seizure of the adjacent territory of Hong Kong from Britain?

What becomes of the validity of treaty rights and international law if at any moment these can be converted into "scraps of paper" just as Hitler did in the 1930s?

Plainly the quest of peace by the processes of reason has suffered a setback. It is all the more distressing because the new violator of human rights—Premier Nehru—has hitherto been their staunchest defender. He has been the world's chief exponent of non-violence and of the pacific settlement of disputes.

Worst of all is the hypocritical and transparently immoral behavior of the United Nations itself. How can respect for that organization be maintained when it tolerates acts that tear to shreds the solemn obligations of its charter?

The Security Council was stopped by the Soviet veto from dealing with India's action, but the General Assembly can still function and express itself. It now is said this would be futile because the Afro-Asian bloc would vote down any resolution condemning India's aggression. Nevertheless, a record vote would go a long way toward defining the issue for the future.

If the charter is to be formally repudiated, the sooner the world knows it the earlier a new organization will be formed to bring together the nations that sincerely believe in a rule of law.

A REREADING of the United Nations Charter adopted in 1945 at San Francisco is pertinent today. Here are some extracts that place aggression outside the pale of civilized conduct:

"Purposes and principles . . . to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace, and for the suppression of acts of aggression or other breaches of the peace . . .

"All members shall refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state. . .

"All members, in order to ensure to all of them the rights and benefits resulting from membership, shall fulfill in good faith the obligations assumed by them in accordance with the present charter."

Adlai Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., acting upon instructions from Washington, made some pointed comments during the debate at the Security Council meeting at which the Soviet veto was registered against any action by the council denouncing India's course. He said:

"Can anyone believe that huge India is acting in self-defense against this little territory? . . . The League of Nations died, I remind you, when its members no longer resisted the use of aggressive force. . . .

"The failure of the Security Council to call for a cease-fire in these simple circumstances is a failure of the United Nations. The veto of the Soviet Union is consistent with its long role of obstruction. But I find the attitude of some other members of the council profoundly disturbing and ominous because we have witnessed an effort to rewrite the charter, to sanction the use of force in international relations when it suits one's own purposes.

"This approach can only lead to chaos and to the disintegration of the United Nations."

THE FOREGOING remarks point up the weakness that has been revealed time and again in the U.N.—that nations do their voting on the basis of political self-interest rather than from the viewpoint of international justice.

What are the tragic consequences already? Indonesia is preparing militarily to move against Dutch-held West New Guinea, which is located on an island hundreds of miles away from the Indonesian seat of government.

The sole claim of Indonesia is that it has a right to whatever the Netherlands own in the archipelago.

Will the U.N. step in to avoid the use of force? Will it help the people of New Guinea to exercise their right of self-determination?

And suppose the Peiping government decides to go back a few centuries to the days when Genghis Khan claimed all of Asia, including India, and asserts now that Red China has inherited all the land once claimed by preceding regimes?

There are many places in the world where bloodshed could ensue if the doctrine that might makes right is to be employed to justify seizing areas now held by other governments, whether as colonies or as integral parts of the sovereign territory of the nation attacked.

THROUGHOUT AFRICA the torches of more war have been lighted.

A West African newspaper says: "The amazing thing was that Nehru was so patient. When independent African countries are strong enough to give the command to pack and go, Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea will suffer the same fate as Goa."

Nuclear wars may perhaps be averted, but little wars that can grow into big wars seem destined to plague the world.

Sooner or later the United Nations must be reorganized to include truly free nations which are willing to make sacrifices to establish a rule of law for the settlement of international disputes.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Two members of Council, J. R. Chambers, president, and Clyde Goodballet, councilman-at-large, retired as city lawmakers.

Atty. William S. Foulks, program chairman, introduced Tom T. Jones, newspaperman, ast he speaker at a meeting of the Lions Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Clark C. Higgins of Pleasant Heights was first East Liverpool man to join the ranks of skilled civilian workers in the battle of the Pacific.

Mrs. Ethel Swift, president and teacher of the Mizpah Class of the First Methodist Church of Wellsville, was presented a gift from the class members.

Miss Alma Elkins of Grant St., Newell, entertained members of the MNS Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Claude Ruckman told the story of the "Littlest Angel" for the Esther Bible Club meeting att he home of Miss Margaret Baum of W. 7th St.

Mrs. Adam Tecca, leader, related the Brownie Story at a meeting of Brownie Troop 44 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

During the U.S. economic depression of the 1830's, some people demanded a law banning all new inventions. They feared that new machines would rob many workers of their jobs. However, during this period inventors developed the steam locomotive, the harvester, the telegraph, the sewing machine, and the process of vulcanizing rubber.

The Eternal Hope Of Revolution

Rumors of significant revolutionary activity in Cuba seem likely to stay in the rumor stage indefinitely.

Castro's revolution stayed in the rumor stage until the revolutionists had picked up enough followers to make overthrow of the Batista government a certainty. Even then, it was not taken at face value until Batista fled.

If Cuba has another revolution, to overthrow Castro as Castro overthrew Batista, it will be as difficult to know about the progress of the fighting. It will be more difficult to fight, because Castro heads a Communist regime, and security from internal trouble is a Communist specialty.

Whatever Batista was capable of doing to maintain himself—and it was ruthless and brutal—Castro and his regime will be capable of doing twice as much. They have been guarding themselves ever since they came to power. That is the meaning of the executions they have carried out. It is the reason for the guns and the terror.

Cuba is a police state. All Communist countries become police states by virtue of being members of the Communist Conspiracy. Their first and greatest concern is to purge the population of all actual and potential sources of revolutionary leadership. If they overlook enough troublemakers to let trouble get started, they redouble their purging, as they did in Hungary after the uprising and as they did in East Germany before that.

It would take a military miracle to upset Castro as Castro upset Batista, because Castro is militarily stronger and his regime is protected by Communist know-how for handling internal trouble. And even if the miracle were in the making at this moment, no one would know about it. There would be nothing but rumors until the fateful moment when a Russian jet transport whisked Fidel Castro to anonymity.

Come To Order!

Sidewalk superintendents are having a field day as the "headache ball" goes to work on the brick walls of the former Ceramic Theater.

While the thud of the giant ball must stir countless memories for those who remember the Ceramic in its heyday, at the same time it holds nothing but utter fascination for those who look on the project as just another wrecking venture.

The Sidewalk Superintendents Association is one of our oldest non-profit organizations. There are no dues, only hours of interesting watching for faithful attendance.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The reactions of an exhausted Christmas shopping season salesgirl to a Visit from St. Nicholas fascinates us each year. So we come through with her thoughts. The salesgirl has just fallen into bed when she speaks:

My stockin's, a little the worse for the wear,
Was hung on the back of a three-legged chair;
I'd worked in a store through the holiday strife,
And was plannin' to sleep for the rest of my life.

When up from the airshaft there came such a clatter
I leaped out of bed to see what was the matter;
When what to my dead-with-sleep eyes did appear
But a semi-pro sleigh and eight small time reindeer!
And who should be drivin' right up to the door
But one of them masquerade guys from the store!

And then in a twinklin' I heard on the roof
The prancin' an' pawin' of meat on the hoof;
(Just imagine my feelings, with sleep nearly dead —
And some sap with an animal act overhead!)

As I drew in my neck and was turnin' around
Down the chimney my visitor came with a bound;
He was chubby, good natured and oozin' with glee,
But I ask you, dear reader, what was it to me?
The point that I made is 'twas then 2 o'clock,
And a man in my room without stoppin' to knock!

I was thinkin' how noivy he was and how slick
When he says to me, "Lady, I'm only St. Nick."
Well, a poor tired store slave in no mood for fun,
I gave him a look and I asked him, "WHICH ONE?"

"Merry Christmas!" he called as away his deers flew,
And I just gave a yawn and I answers, "SEZ YOU!"

CURRENT SLOGAN: "Promise her anything, but give her the Christmas bundles to tote home."

A. C. Gilbert, just out of college, rented a shack and began building magic sets for children. His wealthy father opposed it. He wanted boy to be a doctor. "There's no future in what you plan," he warned. The other day four million was paid for a controlling interest in A. C. Gilbert Corporation by Wratham Corp. of California.

Gilbert was famed as first builder of Erector sets, and expanded into many profitable lines. Interesting fact is that magic was a boyhood hobby and people used to say he was wasting time as kid, when he gave a magician's show at the old Hyperion Theater across from the Yale campus.

Believe it or not Broadway has a show producing company called Precarious Productions Corp.

Fidel Continues U.S. Trade

By Victor Riesel

PORT EVERGLADES, FLA. Fidel Castro who hates our capitalism loves our capitalist dollars and is getting scores of millions in United States cash through wide open trade with American merchants ranging from here to Tampa northward to New York City. I've been covering the waterfront here, talking to seafarers and longshoremen. They tell me, and I've observed for myself, that it is simple for the Fidelista State Export Corporation to dump goods into the United States.

Victor Riesel

The Communist Havana government uses converted (LSTs), old Navy landing barges, big scows, old train ferries and contracts out with an American steamship line which runs two regular sailings from Tampa to Cuba.

This open trade pours millions of dollars, even at this late day, worth of fruit, vegetables, canned goods, tobacco leaf, ginger and other commodities into ports such as this one and up the Gulf Coast line to Mobile, Ala.

No American union sailor will man the ships and no union longshoreman will unload them. But work gangs are picked up and sail and unload the craft on the short run.

THE TOBACCO shipment alone comes to $30 million annually and the rest more than matches this amount.

In turn, Castro's government uses the cash literally to bolster his war machine. Since the first of the year he has been buying millions of dollars worth of lard in the United States and turning a good part of it into nitroglycerine, a war explosive ingredient.

He has bought and has shipped from the United States via these same routes huge quantities of machinery.

Among this equipment have been Diesel engines which can easily be converted into motors for military tanks. There has been $400,000 worth of machinery and vehicles and spare parts for trucks, autos and aircraft.

He has used American dollars to buy electronic equipment and even television receivers for his propaganda — agit-prop — network.

Most of the Havana tobacco leaf comes in on two ships which sail regularly between Tampa and Havana — the Privateer and the Tropic Sea.

These are owned by W. M. Trader Line, Inc. of Tampa. Each makes a round-trip run a week. The line increased its sailings recently because of the heavy demand for Havana leaf — which keeps the 5,000-man cigar industry alive in that Florida city.

HOWEVER, last weekend it developed that the line also is carrying other Cuba cargo. This is legal because there has been no U.S. embargo on trading with the Castro isle.

Last weekend the line's Tropic Sea brought into Tampa 33,500 pounds of ginger preserved in syrup in 61 casks. The shipment was worth $10,000. It belonged to Impresa Cubana de Exportacion, the official Cuban state export agency. The cargo was assigned to a New York firm.

This is the first report of Cuban ginger being dumped into the United States. It indicates that the economically strangling Havana government, which last week broadcast threats to President Kennedy, is increasing its trade with us.

All this is searing the hearts of Cuban labor leaders with whom I've been meeting here. Bitterly they report that word spreads from the militant anti-Castro waterfront workers in Havana to the underground and the anti-Communist activists in the fishing coops, the sugar plantations and refineries.

This word of business with the United States is hurting our prestige and spreading disgust through the underground.

AMONG THE 120,000 or so Cuban refugees here, there are many factions — but the closest knit are the labor exiles, who maintain some of the best contacts inside Cuba.

In Miami are the leaders and their aides of 26 former Cuban labor federations — including the sugar workers, the motion picture projection machine operators, the textile and garment workers, construction and electrical trades.

Their people inside Cuba are in strategic positions for sabotage and the spread of anti-Communist indoctrination. Some of these labor men get in and out of Cuba by fast boat. Everybody here seems to know this. But they get bitter.

They tell you of the Soviet-type block - by - block, village - by - village, co-op-by-co-op type of secret informer system Castro has in operation.

They tell you, for example, of the taxi and auto surveillance system used by the Communist police. The secret police watch taxis and cars for flashing lights. This is a signal to follow the car to the hiding place of underground anti-Castro suspects.

Then we get back to Miami, one exile leader told me: "We find the Castro regime being bolstered by U.S. dollar sales and imports. Our people hear of this and they believe they are being deceived. It doesn't make sense, this policy of yours."

It doesn't. Especially when our government is asking our Cuban friends to gamble their lives.

U.N. Took A Belting

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON The United Nations got a belting this year for what it did or failed to do. But it operated as any representative assembly could be expected to, including the American Congress.

From any adult and realistic view it couldn't be expected to please everybody all the time.

On any given issue the 104 U.N. member nations voted unanimously or broke up into special interest — or selfish — groups to carry a point or try to block it for their own particular reasons.

And, from the viewpoint of its own special interests, this country had a lot to be satisfied with in the U.N. session which ended this week. Some examples of a representative group in action:

The Asian-African bloc stood together on racial and colonial issues but split on political ones. There were also neutral blocs, Communist blocs, Western blocs, each looking out for its own interests.

This could have been predicted without looking further than American history.

In Congress Southern Democrats down through the years formed a bloc—on civil rights, for instance — when they broke off from a majority of their party. On some other issues they voted solidly as party regulars.

And, carrying the example further, groups in both the Democratic and Republican parties, like liberals or conservatives, cross party lines to join their like-minded colleagues on a specific issue.

The U.N. could explode and fall apart for a number of reasons, but always depending on what the special interest alignments happen to be at any one moment. This country exploded in civil war once for that reason.

Nor would it be outside the American experience if one or more U.N. members refused to abide by a majority decision — as has been the case.

The American Senate, for instance, has jealously established and protected the privilege of any member or group of members to try to block the will of the majority by a filibuster.

But at least in Congress once the will of the majority has been established — by a final vote — those who disagree accept the verdict, more or less.

In the U.N., still only 16 years old, there have been rejections of the majority view which show either sheer wilfulness or immaturity, even on the part of old nations which by now should be grown up.

For example:

The U.N. banged into a financial crisis in the session which ended this week—it surmounted this by approving a $200-million bond issue—because some members would not pay their share of certain expenses.

The expenses were for U.N. operations against Katanga in the Congo and for the emergency force which the world set up in the Middle East after the Suez crisis of 1956.

The Communists, France, Belgium, Portugal, South Africa and most of the Arab states in one or both cases refused to pay their share.

The United States was sorely troubled when earlier this week the U.N. Security Council—thanks to a Soviet veto and the opposition of Egypt, Ceylon and Liberia —failed to rebuke India for attacking Portuguese Goa.

This country, because of its own view and interests, had a lot to be satisfied about in actions like these:

The U.N. overcame what looked for a while like a total wrecking operation—when the Soviet Union tried to create three secretaries-general instead of one — by appointing an acting secretary for another year and some months.

The U.N. refused to open the door to membership for Red China. It rebuked the Chinese communists for their treatment of the people of Tibet and the Soviet Union for its conduct in Hungary.

And, despite criticism even within the United States for using force to push secessionist Katanga Province back into the Republic of the Congo, the U.N. seems to have brought peace there, if only temporarily.

In addition: the United States and the Soviet Union were able to agree on laying the ground for negotiations on disarmament and the peaceful exploration of outer space.

Back To Dark Ages

By David Lawrence

India's Aggression Cripples Quest For Peace

India has turned the clock back several centuries to espouse the doctrine that might makes right. No longer is India "non-aligned." It now is aligned with the aggressors — the Soviet Union and Red China — in grabbing near - by territory and arguing that it is merely following "the tide of history." The theft of the Portuguese province of Goa by India's military forces indeed has put a black mark on the pages of history.

David Lawrence

What is to happen to Mr. Nehru's cause if Red China starts moving across the Tibetan border to invade India or uses his argument to justify a seizure of the adjacent territory of Hong Kong from Britain?

What becomes of the validity of treaty rights and international law if at any moment these can be converted into "scraps of paper" just as Hitler did in the 1930s?

Plainly the quest of peace by the processes of reason has suffered a setback. It is all the more distressing because the new violator of human rights—Premier Nehru—has hitherto been their staunchest defender. He has been the world's chief exponent of non-violence and of the pacific settlement of disputes.

Worst of all is the hypocritical and transparently immoral behavior of the United Nations itself. How can respect for that organization be maintained when it tolerates acts that tear to shreds the solemn obligations of its charter?

The Security Council was stopped by the Soviet veto from dealing with India's action, but the General Assembly can still function and express itself. It now is said this would be futile because the Afro-Asian bloc would vote down any resolution condemning India's aggression. Nevertheless, a record vote would go a long way toward defining the issue for the future.

If the charter is to be formally repudiated, the sooner the world knows it the earlier a new organization will be formed to bring together the nations that sincerely believe in a rule of law.

A REREADING of the United Nations Charter adopted in 1945 at San Francisco is pertinent today. Here are some extracts that place aggression outside the pale of civilized conduct:

"Purposes and principles . . . to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace, and for the suppression of acts of aggression or other breaches of the peace . . .

"All members shall refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state. . .

"All members, in order to ensure to all of them the rights and benefits resulting from membership, shall fulfill in good faith the obligations assumed by them in accordance with the present charter."

Adlai Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., acting upon instructions from Washington, made some pointed comments during the debate at the Security Council meeting at which the Soviet veto was registered against any action by the council denouncing India's course. He said:

"Can anyone believe that huge India is acting in self-defense against this little territory? . . . The League of Nations died, I remind you, when its members no longer resisted the use of aggressive force. . . .

"The failure of the Security Council to call for a cease-fire in these simple circumstances is a failure of the United Nations. The veto of the Soviet Union is consistent with its long role of obstruction. But I find the attitude of some other members of the council profoundly disturbing and ominous because we have witnessed an effort to rewrite the charter, to sanction the use of force in international relations when it suits one's own purposes.

"This approach can only lead to chaos and to the disintegration of the United Nations."

THE FOREGOING remarks point up the weakness that has been revealed time and again in the U.N.—that nations do their voting on the basis of political self-interest rather than from the viewpoint of international justice.

What are the tragic consequences already? Indonesia is preparing militarily to move against Dutch-held West New Guinea, which is located on an island hundreds of miles away from the Indonesian seat of government.

The sole claim of Indonesia is that it has a right to whatever the Netherlands own in the archipelago.

Will the U.N. step in to avoid the use of force? Will it help the people of New Guinea to exercise their right of self-determination?

And suppose the Peiping government decides to go back a few centuries to the days when Genghis Khan claimed all of Asia, including India, and asserts now that Red China has inherited all the land once claimed by preceding regimes?

There are many places in the world where bloodshed could ensue if the doctrine that might makes right is to be employed to justify seizing areas now held by other governments, whether as colonies or as integral parts of the sovereign territory of the nation attacked.

THROUGHOUT AFRICA the torches of more war have been lighted.

A West African newspaper says: "The amazing thing was that Nehru was so patient. When independent African countries are strong enough to give the command to pack and go, Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea will suffer the same fate as Goa."

Nuclear wars may perhaps be averted, but little wars that can grow into big wars seem destined to plague the world.

Sooner or later the United Nations must be reorganized to include truly free nations which are willing to make sacrifices to establish a rule of law for the settlement of international disputes.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Two members of Council, J. R. Chambers, president, and Clyde Goodballet, councilman-at-large, retired as city lawmakers.

Atty. William S. Foulks, program chairman, introduced Tom T. Jones, newspaperman, ast he speaker at a meeting of the Lions Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Clark C. Higgins of Pleasant Heights was first East Liverpool man to join the ranks of skilled civilian workers in the battle of the Pacific.

Mrs. Ethel Swift, president and teacher of the Mizpah Class of the First Methodist Church of Wellsville, was presented a gift from the class members.

Miss Alma Elkins of Grant St., Newell, entertained members of the MNS Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Claude Ruckman told the story of the "Littlest Angel" for the Esther Bible Club meeting att he home of Miss Margaret Baum of W. 7th St.

Mrs. Adam Tecca, leader, related the Brownie Story at a meeting of Brownie Troop 44 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

During the U.S. economic depression of the 1830's, some people demanded a law banning all new inventions. They feared that new machines would rob many workers of their jobs. However, during this period inventors developed the steam locomotive, the harvester, the telegraph, the sewing machine, and the process of vulcanizing rubber.

CRIME, PUNISHMENT

Fear follows crime, and is its punishment.

—Francois Voltaire

Without punishment, sin would multiply.

—Mary Baker Eddy

The seeds of our punishment are sown at the same time we commit the sin.

—Hesiod

The certainty of punishment, even more than its severity, is the preventive of crime.

—Tryon Edwards

He who does not punish evil commands it to be done.

—Leonardo da Vinci

Crime and punishment grow out of one stem. Punishment is a fruit that, unsuspected, ripens within the flower of the pleasure that concealed it.

Churches Are Built To Suit The People

VANCOUVER (AP) — Churches, like homes, should be designed for those who live in them, says architect William Wilding.

Color, light, fabric and the use of appropriate wood can induce a worshipful response on the part of the church-goer, just as a well-planned home gives a sense of warmth and security to a family, he says.

Wilding says the order of service of the church should have an effect on the design of the building:

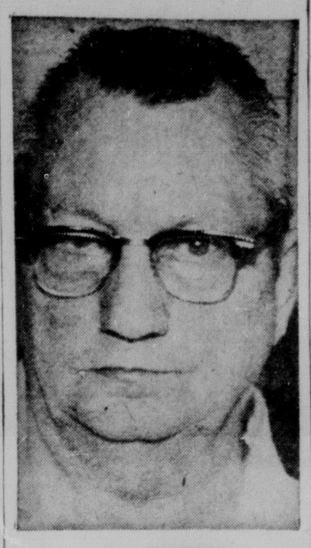

"Some denominations require a church that could almost be classed as an auditorium, others with a strong emphasis on liturgy require focusing of the main attention on the chancel and the minister."

Locomotive Arrives By Bridle Path

CHICAGO (AP) — Old 2903, a giant steam locomotive donated by the Santa Fe Railway to the Museum of Science and Industry here, arrived by way of a bridle path.

The 340-ton railroad engine was inched toward its destination by repeatedly laying fourteen 39-foot track sections that were removed after the locomotive passed over them. A tractor - dozer with a winch pulled the huge locomotive and an air compressor mounted on the tender supplied pressure for its braking system.

tained $4,785 from the bank when he threatened to explode a cigar box containing dynamite.

An inspector at the Kolcast Industries at Minerva, Brown entered the branch bank the morning of Nov. 6, showed Lee Bowman, the manager, the box and had him go around with him as the executive emptied the contents of two cash drawers. He then herded the bank's staff of four and a customer into the vault, warned them to stay there, and entered his car and headed north.

He was taken into custody within an hour on Routes 172 and 80 north of Minerva by an Ohio highway patrolman, part of an area police net alerted by descriptions given by the bank staff.

"Would you have blown those people up?" Judge McNamee asked.

"I don't think I would," said the short, stocky Brown.

"The gun you had in your belt," the judge asked. "Would you have used that if anyone tried to stop you?

"I don't know about that," said Brown. "I don't know whether I'd have used it or not."

Brown's wife and teen-age daughter were in court for the arraignment.

From False One Formula Given To Tell Real Poet

OXFORD, England (AP) — A formula for telling a real poet from a false one has been advanced by Robert Graves, author and professor of poetry at Oxford University.

In a lecture at Oxford, he said: "True poetic trances excite memorable images, strong personal rhythms and a peculiar syntax which together transcend in emotional force the most considered rhetoric.

"False trances imitate these elements, but deceive no reader of sensibility.

"Any honest, dedicated poet, with a nose and an eye, will take up a new volume of verse, riffle the pages through, and decide after two minutes, by a pricking of his finger tips, whether or not the muse has been in attendance."

Graves said that when one reads or writes a true poem "the hairs stand on end, the eyes water, the throat constricts, the skin crawls and a shiver runs down the spine."

Certain Of Good Things Ahead

U.S. Economy Will Face 1962 In Confident Mood

By NATE POLOWETZKY
AP General Business Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. economy, its health restored, moves into 1962 in a buoyant and confident mood—certain of good things ahead.

What's in store?

Increased consumer and government spending—the twin props of the economy — a modest increase in corporate profits, and more jobs and less unemployment.

While there were some predictions of new records for all segments of the economy, the general feeling was there would be no runaway boom.

There is always the possibility a revival of creeping inflation could throw a spanner in the works or that a steel strike in midyear could turn things sour.

That's the way the experts see it for the first half of the year, at least, with a possible contraction setting in thereafter.

A sign of this optimism was the plan of the giant auto industry to build more cars in the first quarter of 1962 than in any single 1961 quarter.

Advance schedules call for 1,887,000 assemblies in January through March—compared to the 1961 quarterly high of 1,837,000 in the three months ending in December.

If these schedules stand, they will produce a record output total for the first six months of a model year of 3,724,000. The record now is 3,692,000 in 1955-56 with a 1954-55 second best of 3,516,000.

That means the automakers are convinced the average American is going to spend more in 1962 than he did in 1961.

Leading industrialists who gathered here in December for the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers generally agreed there would be a continuation through 1962 of the business upswing that began in the spring of 1961 — provided a steel strike didn't pop up.

The gross national product (the total value of all goods and services) may be running at an annual rate of $580 billion by the end of 1962, compared to the annual rate of $540 billion in the last three months of 1961.

Federal purchases of goods and services are expected to total at least $62 billion, a sharp increase from a 1961 level of $56.9 billion. And some experts think the level of purchases may go as high as $63 billion.

The dark spot on the economy throughout 1961—and a continuing one for 1962—was joblessness.

Continuing automation and demands for higher skills hit the older worker and the younger job-seeker with little education or unneeded, or non-existent skills.

For many observers, the biggest challenge for 1962 was an expanding economy that would be able to create enough new jobs to absorb a constantly increasing labor force.

High Court Asked To Throw Out Suit Involving McKinley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court was asked today to throw out a suit seeking to keep Canton McKinley High School's 1962 football suspension intact.

Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman said in a brief that the Ohio High School Athletic Association lacked authority to seek a high court writ of prohibition that would prevent the county common pleas court from lifting the suspension.

The association asked the writ after the lower court temporarily enjoined the suspension imposed for alleged theft of two football-playing brothers from Portsmouth High School.

Both schools are members of the association which regulates athletic competition among some 1,500 public and parochial school members.

Putman said in a demurrer to the writ of prohibition suit that school boards have the capacity to contract and sue but not to form a voluntary association for such a purpose.

The prosecutor added that lower courts were competent to determine their jurisdiction and that the association could appeal rather than ask the high court to ban injunction.

The common pleas court is free to consider a permanent injunction against the suspension unless the Supreme Court orders otherwise.

The high court recently refused to issue a temporary writ of prohibition but said that action did not bar consideration of a request for a permanent writ against the trial court.

'GI Joe' On Display At Corps' Museum

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J. (AP) —"GI Joe" is now on display at the Army Signal Corps Museum here — stuffed and mounted in all his feathered glory.

"GI Joe" is the World War II hero pigeon that saved the lives of 1,000 British soldiers by flying an urgent message in Italy. The heroic flight occurred Oct. 18, 1943, and averted an Allied bombing over Colvi Vecchia, an Italian town just captured by British troops.

When the Army inactivated the training of homing pigeons more than three years ago, the bird was shipped from Fort Monmouth to the Detroit Zoological Park. "GI Joe" died June 3 and now has been returned here from Michigan.

Vital Instructions In Case Of Attack

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A folded card on a bulletin board outside the offices of Chesterfield County executive secretary M. W. Burnett and Howard A. Mayor Jr., county planner and coordinator of civil defense, reads: "Important Instructions. To be opened in case of emergency attack."

What's inside?

"Not yet, stupid," it says. "Wait for attack."

She's 'Great' At 49

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Arthur Widmark is a great-grandmother at 49. She married when she was 14 and has 8 children, 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Winter and Your Septic Tank

Unlike humans, who heat their homes in winter, or even animals, who have hairy bodies to keep them warm, the poor little bacteria in septic tanks and waste disposal systems have no protection against those harsh winter months ahead.

Since a temperature drop of only a few degrees will kill billions of these hard working microbes, the reduced bacterial population becomes incapable of disposing of the waste which enters such systems, resulting in clogged and unsanitary conditions.

These bacteria, mainly the colon-type, are produced in the human body at a temperature of 98.6°F., and lose their ability to produce their own enzymes for solids liquification as the temperature drops, literally starving to death. Quoting from SEWERAGE and SEWAGE TREATMENT: (1)

"Temperature of sludge digestion — the most practical optimum temperature of sludge digestion, known as the Mesophilic Range, is between 80°F. and 90°F., preferably about 85°F. As the temperature drops, bacterial action diminishes almost in proportion until at about 50°F. It practically ceases."

Naturally, since the temperatures in unheated sewage systems average between 50°F. and 60°F. in winter, it may readily be seen that trouble can be expected.

HOW SEA-CAL ENZYMES HELP

Enzymes are not as susceptible to low temperatures as are bacteria, and it has been proven that their liquifying ability continues as low as 35°F. Therefore, SEA-CAL takes over the reduction of the solids, producing food in AVAILABLE form for the reduced bacteria population, enabling them to continue their valuable work, and to produce clear effluents for transmission to drainfields and cesspools. Since SEA-CAL also contains strains of virile bacteria by the million per gram, fresh populations are added each time a treatment is made.

For only a few pennies per treatment, for the average home system, SEA-CAL insures year-round protection from costly service problems, and unsanitary conditions.

USE SEA-CAL ENZYMES REGULARLY ALL YEAR, INCREASING DOSES IN WINTER.

CHICAGO (AP) — Old 2903, a giant steam locomotive donated by the Santa Fe Railway to the Museum of Science and Industry here, arrived by way of a bridle path.

The 340-ton railroad engine was inched toward its destination by repeatedly laying fourteen 39-foot track sections that were removed after the locomotive passed over them. A tractor - dozer with a winch pulled the huge locomotive and an air compressor mounted on the tender supplied pressure for its braking system.

Hippocrates, the ancient Greek physician known as "The Father of Medicine," is credited as having been the first ophthalmologist. For the treatment of eye diseases, he recommended restricted diet and hot foot baths.

tained $4,785 from the bank when he threatened to explode a cigar box containing dynamite.

An inspector at the Kolcast Industries at Minerva, Brown entered the branch bank the morning of Nov. 6, showed Lee Bowman, the manager, the box and had him go around with him as the executive emptied the contents of two cash drawers. He then herded the bank's staff of four and a customer into the vault, warned them to stay there, and entered his car and headed north.

He was taken into custody within an hour on Routes 172 and 80 north of Minerva by an Ohio highway patrolman, part of an area police net alerted by descriptions given by the bank staff.

"Would you have blown those people up?" Judge McNamee asked.

"I don't think I would," said the short, stocky Brown.

"The gun you had in your belt," the judge asked. "Would you have used that if anyone tried to stop you?

"I don't know about that," said Brown. "I don't know whether I'd have used it or not."

Brown's wife and teen - age daughter were in court for the arraignment.

From False One Formula Given To Tell Real Poet

OXFORD, England (AP) — A formula for telling a real poet from a false one has been advanced by Robert Graves, author and professor of poetry at Oxford University.

In a lecture at Oxford, he said: "True poetic trances excite memorable images, strong personal rhythms and a peculiar syntax which together transcend in emotional force the most considered rhetoric.

"False trances imitate these elements, but deceive no reader of sensibility.

"Any honest, dedicated poet, with a nose and an eye, will take up a new volume of verse, riffle the pages through, and decide after two minutes, by a pricking of his finger tips, whether or not the muse has been in attendance."

Graves said that when one reads or writes a true poem "the hairs stand on end, the eyes water, the throat constricts, the skin crawls and a shiver runs down the spine."

Deputies Not There To Watch Dancers

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Couples at the Marshall University fraternity dance knew there were sheriff's deputies in the crowd.

And they knew the deputies weren't there to watch the dancers.

Because the Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance was the fourth public appearance of The Unmoveables, an orchestra made up of inmates of the county jail.

Certain Of Good Things Ahead

U.S. Economy Will Face 1962 In Confident Mood

By NATE POLOWETZKY
AP General Business Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. economy, its health restored, moves into 1962 in a buoyant and confident mood—certain of good things ahead.

What's in store?

Increased consumer and government spending—the twin props of the economy — a modest increase in corporate profits, and more jobs and less unemployment.

While there were some predictions of new records for all segments of the economy, the general feeling was there would be no runaway boom.

There is always the possibility a revival of creeping inflation could throw a spanner in the works or that a steel strike in midyear could turn things sour.

That's the way the experts see it for the first half of the year, at least, with a possible contraction setting in thereafter.

A sign of this optimism was the plan of the giant auto industry to build more cars in the first quarter of 1962 than in any single 1961 quarter.

Advance schedules call for 1,887,000 assemblies in January through March—compared to the 1961 quarterly high of 1,837,000 in the three months ending in December.

If these schedules stand, they will produce a record output total for the first six months of a model year of 3,724,000. The record now is 3,692,000 in 1955-56 with a 1954-55 second best of 3,516,000.

That means the automakers are convinced the average American is going to spend more in 1962 than he did in 1961.

Leading industrialists who gathered here in December for the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers generally agreed there would be a continuation through 1962 of the business upswing that began in the spring of 1961 — provided a steel strike didn't pop up.

The gross national product (the total value of all goods and services) may be running at an annual rate of $580 billion by the end of 1962, compared to the annual rate of $540 billion in the last three months of 1961.

Federal purchases of goods and services are expected to total at least $62 billion, a sharp increase from a 1961 level of $56.9 billion. And some experts think the level of purchases may go as high as $63 billion.

The dark spot on the economy throughout 1961—and a continuing one for 1962—was joblessness.

Continuing automation and demands for higher skills hit the older worker and the younger job-seeker with little education or unneeded, or non-existent skills.

For many observers, the biggest challenge for 1962 was an expanding economy that would be able to create enough new jobs to absorb a constantly increasing labor force.

High Court Asked To Throw Out Suit Involving McKinley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court was asked today to throw out a suit seeking to keep Canton McKinley High School's 1962 football suspension intact.

Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman said in a brief that the Ohio High School Athletic Association lacked authority to seek a high court writ of prohibition that would prevent the county common pleas court from lifting the suspension.

The association asked the writ after the lower court temporarily enjoined the suspension imposed for alleged theft of two football-playing brothers from Portsmouth High School.

Both schools are members of the association which regulates athletic competition among some 1,500 public and parochial school members.

Putman said in a demurrer to the writ of prohibition suit that school boards have the capacity to contract and sue but not to form a voluntary association for such a purpose.

The prosecutor added that lower courts were competent to determine their jurisdiction and that the association could appeal rather than ask the high court to ban injunction.

The common pleas court is free to consider a permanent injunction against the suspension unless the Supreme Court orders otherwise.

The high court recently refused to issue a temporary writ of prohibition but said that action did not bar consideration of a request for a permanent writ against the trial court.

'GI Joe' On Display At Corps' Museum

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J. (AP) —"GI Joe" is now on display at the Army Signal Corps Museum here — stuffed and mounted in all his feathered glory.

"GI Joe" is the World War II hero pigeon that saved the lives of 1,000 British soldiers by flying an urgent message in Italy. The heroic flight occurred Oct. 18, 1943, and averted an Allied bombing over Colvi Vecchia, an Italian town just captured by British troops.

When the Army inactivated the training of homing pigeons more than three years ago, the bird was shipped from Fort Monmouth to the Detroit Zoological Park. "GI Joe" died June 3 and now has been returned here from Michigan.

Vital Instructions In Case Of Attack

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A folded card on a bulletin board outside the offices of Chesterfield County executive secretary M. W. Burnett and Howard A. Mayor Jr., county planner and coordinator of civil defense, reads: "Important Instructions. To be opened in case of emergency attack."

What's inside?

"Not yet, stupid," it says. "Wait for attack."

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Arthur Widmark is a great-grandmother at 49. She married when she was 14 and has 8 children, 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Winter and Your Septic Tank

Unlike humans, who heat their homes in winter, or even animals, who have hairy bodies to keep them warm, the poor little bacteria in septic tanks and waste disposal systems have no protection against those harsh winter months ahead.

Since a temperature drop of only a few degrees will kill billions of these hard working microbes, the reduced bacterial population becomes incapable of disposing of the waste which enters such systems, resulting in clogged and unsanitary conditions.

These bacteria, mainly the colon-type, are produced in the human body at a temperature of 98.6°F., and lose their ability to produce their own enzymes for solids liquification as the temperature drops, literally starving to death. Quoting from SEWERAGE and SEWAGE TREATMENT: (1)

"Temperature of sludge digestion — the most practical optimum temperature of sludge digestion, known as the Mesophilic Range, is between 80°F. and 90°F., preferably about 85°F. As the temperature drops, bacterial action diminishes almost in proportion until at about 50°F. It practically ceases."

Naturally, since the temperatures in unheated sewage systems average between 50°F. and 60°F. in winter, it may readily be seen that trouble can be expected.

HOW SEA-CAL ENZYMES HELP

Enzymes are not as susceptible to low temperatures as are bacteria, and it has been proven that their liquifying ability continues as low as 35°F. Therefore, SEA-CAL takes over the reduction of the solids, producing food in AVAILABLE form for the reduced bacteria population, enabling them to continue their valuable work, and to produce clear effluents for transmission to drainfields and cesspools. Since SEA-CAL also contains strains of virile bacteria by the million per gram, fresh populations are added each time a treatment is made.

For only a few pennies per treatment, for the average home system, SEA-CAL insures year-round protection from costly service problems, and unsanitary conditions.

USE SEA-CAL ENZYMES REGULARLY ALL YEAR, INCREASING DOSES IN WINTER.

Adlai Backed On Belief UN Will Survive

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A neutralist and a Latin-American U.N. delegate concurred today in Adlai Stevenson's belief the United Nations will survive despite the life-and-death issues that tested it this year.

Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the world organization, told a news conference Thursday the 104-nation body would win the struggle for existence even though many claimed it was in its death throes and he himself had warned it had taken a turn that could lead to its destruction.

The Soviet Union's diagnosis of the U.N.'s chances was expected today when Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin meets newsmen to give his appraisal of the 16th General Assembly, which recessed for Christmas Thursday.

Stevenson noted that when the 16th assembly met last September, a host of life-and-death issues faced it.

"On every one, we have today . . . a result better than we dared to predict," he declared.

The crucial problems, he said, had included the job of replacing the late Dag Hammarskjold as secretary-general, the China seating question, the financial crisis which threatened to bankrupt the U.N. and the Congo problem.

The first three have been solved for the time being at least, he noted.

"The news from the Congo," he added, "is a fresh reminder of the durability of the United Nations."

Stevenson emphasized again he was disturbed by the support Asian and African nations gave India's use of force against Portuguese Goa. Such an attitude, he told the Security Council Monday night, "can only lead to chaos and the disintegration of the United Nations."

He charged that the Soviet Union had tried to pit the large Asian-African group against the West but said this had not succeeded.

Stevenson's view on the U.N.'s durability was shared by the Asian neutralist and Latin-American delegates, both of whom asked not to be named.

"They said the U.N. was wrecked on the problem of the secretary-general and then on the Congo, and now they say it on Goa," said the Asian diplomat. "I don't think so. The organization has even grown with each of these crises."

The Latin-American said: "The new nations have gotten new ideas into the stream of international debate."

This was a good thing, he said, and should not do the U.N. any harm.

U.S. Agents To Use Car Seized In Raid

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A late-model sedan seized by internal revenue agents in a gambling raid will be kept for use by federal officers.

The car belonged to Edwin Watruba, 45, of Sandusky. Watruba, in addition to losing the car, was fined $300 and given a six-month suspended jail sentence by U. S. District Judge Frank L. Kloeb.

Judge Kloeb ordered the car sold at auction, but the General Services Administration said the government could keep the car. Kenneth Cannon, chief of the Toledo IRS Intelligence Division, said that the vehicle will be used by revenue agents in the Cleveland area.

Dayton Teachers Get Salary Hike

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton teachers will get a salary increase as a Christmas present.

Effective Christmas Day, wage increases will go into effect totaling $800,000 a year, or an average of $308 for each teacher.

The Dayton School Board adopted the new wage schedule Thursday night. It provides that teachers with a bachelor's degree will get salaries starting at $4,700 (now $4,557) and progress in 15 years to $7,650 (now $7,253). Those with master's degrees will start at $5,000 (now $4,833) and progress in 15 years to a top of $8,100 (now $7,600).

School Supt. Robert B. French told the board, "I was going to insert a provision that in very obvious cases of inefficiency, teachers would not advance on the schedule automatically, but there was violent objection."

An additional school levy passed at the November election will help finance the wage increase.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The holiday season is here again. Our daughter and her three children, plus our daughter-in-law and her three, will be visiting us at the same time.

How can I get it across to both mothers that I will not tolerate any more brutality from their 7-year-olds? Ever since these two hellions were able to walk they have been wild and destructive. They used to nearly kill each other. Now the two of them gang up against the younger children and I can't take the constant fighting.

Every time we sit down to a meal there are kicking, screaming and biting. This one won't sit next to that one and food is thrown and spilled on the table and the carpeting. I've talked to both mothers and they say such behavior is natural for 7-year-olds.

I've had to go away immediately after Christmas and rest up for three weeks to recover from the holidays. Any suggestions? — S.O.S.

Dear S.O.S.: Yes. Go away for three weeks — beginning Dec. 15.

Schooled, Jobless

Dear Ann: I was graduated from high school at 18. I made honor grades and thought my academic record would help me get a good job. Every place I went they said, "Sorry, we need someone with experience."

I enrolled in a business school and was graduated with high marks. I've been hunting for an office job for 18 months. All I hear is, "We need someone with experience."

How can a person fresh out of school get experience when no one will give him a chance? Please tell me what to do, Ann. I'm beginning to think this is a cruel, cruel world. — UNEMPLOYED.

Dear Unemployed: Inexperienced people (especially office help) are hired every day on the strength of recommendations from business schools.

Perhaps your appearance, your personality or your general attitude needs working on. Discuss this problem with your business school teachers — and good luck to you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Police Firing Suit Dropped

A Common Pleas Court appeal filed in 1958 by Ira Cunningham after he was fired from the police force was dismissed Thursday for lack of prosecution at his costs. The former city policeman is now in prison.

Cunningham, Robert Carroll and Louis Stuttler, three of seven officers indicted in 1956 for a series of burglaries, were dismissed from the force by Dan Maggianetti, then safety-service director, on grounds they failed to take a lie detector test as ordered.

They claimed they were not subject to the director's orders because they were under suspension at the time, and that the order was discriminatory because other officers were not asked to take the test. The dismissal was upheld by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Cunningham was later convicted of attempting to bribe a prospective juror and was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus. He was also convicted and his appeal refused for a burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store.

Carroll's case was dismissed in January.

Adlai Backed On Belief UN Will Survive

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A neutralist and a Latin-American U.N. delegate concurred today in Adlai Stevenson's belief the United Nations will survive despite the life-and-death issues that tested it this year.

Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the world organization, told a news conference Thursday the 104-nation body would win the struggle for existence even though many claimed it was in its death throes and he himself had warned it had taken a turn that could lead to its destruction.

The Soviet Union's diagnosis of the U.N.'s chances was expected today when Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin meets newsmen to give his appraisal of the 16th General Assembly, which recessed for Christmas Thursday.

Stevenson noted that when the 16th assembly met last September, a host of life-and-death issues faced it.

"On every one, we have today . . . a result better than we dared to predict," he declared.

The crucial problems, he said, had included the job of replacing the late Dag Hammarskjold as secretary-general, the China seating question, the financial crisis which threatened to bankrupt the U.N. and the Congo problem.

The first three have been solved for the time being at least, he noted.

"The news from the Congo," he added, "is a fresh reminder of the durability of the United Nations."

Stevenson emphasized again he was disturbed by the support Asian and African nations gave India's use of force against Portuguese Goa. Such an attitude, he told the Security Council Monday night, "can only lead to chaos and the disintegration of the United Nations."

He charged that the Soviet Union had tried to pit the large Asian-African group against the West but said this had not succeeded.

Stevenson's view on the U.N.'s durability was shared by the Asian neutralist and Latin-American delegates, both of whom asked not to be named.

"They said the U.N. was wrecked on the problem of the secretary-general and then on the Congo, and now they say it on Goa," said the Asian diplomat. "I don't think so. The organization has even grown with each of these crises."

The Latin-American said: "The new nations have gotten new ideas into the stream of international debate."

This was a good thing, he said, and should not do the U.N. any harm.

U.S. Agents To Use Car Seized In Raid

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A late-model sedan seized by internal revenue agents in a gambling raid will be kept for use by federal officers.

Judge Kloeb ordered the car sold at auction, but the General Services Administration said the government could keep the car. Kenneth Cannon, chief of the Toledo IRS Intelligence Division, said that the vehicle will be used by revenue agents in the Cleveland area.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton teachers will get a salary increase as a Christmas present.

Effective Christmas Day, wage increases will go into effect totaling $800,000 a year, or an average of $308 for each teacher.

The Dayton School Board adopted the new wage schedule Thursday night. It provides that teachers with a bachelor's degree will get salaries starting at $4,700 (now $4,557) and progress in 15 years to $7,650 (now $7,253). Those with master's degrees will start at $5,000 (now $4,833) and progress in 15 years to a top of $8,100 (now $7,600).

School Supt. Robert B. French told the board, "I was going to insert a provision that in very obvious cases of inefficiency, teachers would not advance on the schedule automatically, but there was violent objection."

An additional school levy passed at the November election will help finance the wage increase.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The holiday season is here again. Our daughter and her three children, plus our daughter-in-law and her three, will be visiting us at the same time.

How can I get it across to both mothers that I will not tolerate any more brutality from their 7-year-olds? Ever since these two hellions were able to walk they have been wild and destructive. They used to nearly kill each other. Now the two of them gang up against the younger children and I can't take the constant fighting.

Every time we sit down to a meal there are kicking, screaming and biting. This one won't sit next to that one and food is thrown and spilled on the table and the carpeting. I've talked to both mothers and they say such behavior is natural for 7-year-olds.

I've had to go away immediately after Christmas and rest up for three weeks to recover from the holidays. Any suggestions? — S.O.S.

Dear S.O.S.: Yes. Go away for three weeks — beginning Dec. 15.

Schooled, Jobless

Dear Ann: I was graduated from high school at 18. I made honor grades and thought my academic record would help me get a good job. Every place I went they said, "Sorry, we need someone with experience."

I enrolled in a business school and was graduated with high marks. I've been hunting for an office job for 18 months. All I hear is, "We need someone with experience."

How can a person fresh out of school get experience when no one will give him a chance? Please tell me what to do, Ann. I'm beginning to think this is a cruel, cruel world. — UNEMPLOYED.

Dear Unemployed: Inexperienced people (especially office help) are hired every day on the strength of recommendations from business schools.

Perhaps your appearance, your personality or your general attitude needs working on. Discuss this problem with your business school teachers — and good luck to you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Police Firing Suit Dropped

A Common Pleas Court appeal filed in 1958 by Ira Cunningham after he was fired from the police force was dismissed Thursday for lack of prosecution at his costs. The former city policeman is now in prison.

Cunningham, Robert Carroll and Louis Stuttler, three of seven officers indicted in 1956 for a series of burglaries, were dismissed from the force by Dan Maggianetti, then safety-service director, on grounds they failed to take a lie detector test as ordered.

They claimed they were not subject to the director's orders because they were under suspension at the time, and that the order was discriminatory because other officers were not asked to take the test. The dismissal was upheld by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Cunningham was later convicted of attempting to bribe a prospective juror and was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus. He was also convicted and his appeal refused for a burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store.

Carroll's case was dismissed in January.

signing of the agreement "We do not intend to be outwitted again" by Tshombe.

Ileo noted that Tshombe had repudiated similar agreements in the past but asserted that "this time the U.N. is directly involved and has the responsibility to see that the commitment is completely respected.

Tshombe signed the declaration at the U.N. military base at Kitona after 17-hour talks with Adoula and handed it to U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche. The accord promised to place Tshombe's Katanga gendarmerie under the authority of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu and pledged to support policies of the United Nations, which has demanded expulsion of foreign mercenaries directing Katanga armed forces.

On returning to Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, Tshombe declared he had "not found anything at Kitona."

"The important thing is that the accord we have reached has to be ratified by my ministers and by the national (Katanga) assembly, and that cannot be done for at least 10 days," he said.

Belgian observers in Elisabethville—where Katanga armed resistance crumbled after a two-week battle with U.N. troops—said they doubted that Tshombe's ministers and other followers would accept the agreement.

The Belgians also speculated if ratification is denied, the U.N. command will feel compelled to resort to further military action.

A U.N. spokesman declared that "there is no question of ratification as far as U.N. representatives are concerned. "It is signed, sealed and delivered," he said of the agreement.

Officials in Washington were also doubtful. A high-ranking U.S. official said that "the road ahead is still a rocky one. What we hope is that Katanga will live up to the agreement."

The owners of Mike's Bar, Allen and Yaquinta, were not present at the time of the raid, but gave themselves up later in the day.

FBI agents also "identified" for the records 15 persons in the Saddle and Oyster Bar and 28 in the State Cigar Store. They confiscated a quantity of cash, scratch sheets, betting tickets and racing forms.

No charges were filed against any of the patrons in the establishments.

The FBI said race results were taken from the tote board at Waterford Park by Hankish, who was concealed in a truck. He radioed the information to a nearby trailer.

The information was transmitted by calls made through the East Liverpool telephone exchange to the three alleged gambling establishments, by Yaquinta from the trailer, Brown said.

The FBI absolved the track of any part in the operation.

Woman Hurt In Car Crash In Unity Area

A Darlington woman was injured in a one-car mishap on Route 14 near Unity early this morning, while five other drivers —including four from the East Liverpool area — escaped injury in three traffic crashes Thursday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mrs. Burdell McCowin, 35, suffered lacerations of the head and neck when her car went off Route 14 near the Pennsylvania line about 5:30 a. m.

She was taken to Salem City Hospital. Witnesses said Mrs. McCowin was returning home from the Hideaway, a Unity area restaurant where she is a waitress.

Betty Jane Fey, 37, of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, was cited for improper passing after her car collided with another on Route 30 at the intersection with Route 170 about 8:10 p. m. yesterday.

Officers said she was headed north, passing a car operated by Harry Pethtel, 40, of the Y. & O. Rd. when her auto hit the front of his as she pulled in ahead of him. Damage was moderate, officers said.

Peter M. Rohall, 37, of Old Fredericktown Rd. escaped injury when his car swerved off a curve of Route 164 at the "Y" intersection with Route 39 near Salineville at 5:45 p. m. and struck guardrails.

Officers continued a search for the driver of a car which collided with one operated by Mrs. Doris S. Thompson of Glenmoor on Route 30 about four miles east of Minerva yesterday morning about 11.

Mrs. Thompson said she was driving west when the other auto, a 1953 sedan with Ohio plates, rounded a curve left of center and struck her auto.

When she went to phone officers, the other driver left the scene, she said. Damage to her auto was moderate, the patrol reported.

them to get away from the curb in slippery weather.

The parking regulation which the joint order suspends at least in part makes it illegal to park a vehicle "against the free flow of traffic." Normally an auto must be parked so that it is headed in the same direction as traffic flows in the adjoining lane.

The order from the director and the chief applies to residential areas, but not to the district generally considered the business area, they pointed out.

They defined the business area as the district bounded on the north by 9th St., on the south by 2nd St., on the east by College St. and on the west by Jefferson St.

The order means, in effect, that an auto may be parked in either direction outside that area.

The "wrong way parking" ordinance first was eased about five years ago after an officer issued tickets wholesale to drivers who had parked their autos in the wrong direction on hillside streets.

Prior to that time, by tacit understanding, the "wrong way" ordinance had not been enforced in the wintertime against motorists who must park on steep grades.

Human Genetics Research Shows Great Advance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Research in human genetics has advanced to the point where scientists believe they can someday reverse ill effects of atomic radiation on the human body.

An article in Medicine at Work, publication of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, said one of the major studies under way is to reverse the increasing incidence of birth abnormalities blamed by some on mutations from radioactive fallout.

Dr. H. Bentley Glass, professor of biology at Johns Hopkins University, pointed out in the article that biologists are learning how to modify the outcome of heredity. One day, he predicts, they may learn to control mutation by correcting or replacing defective genes.

Dr. Hermann J. Muller, Indiana professor of zoology and Nobel Prize winner, forsees the time when human sperm "banks" might make it possible for parents to select the characterisics they would like to see in their children. Germ cells stored in deep - frozen condition below ground could serve as one step toward survival of future generations undamaged by radiation, Dr. Muller said.

Living Costs Dipped Little In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs as measured by the government declined in November by one tenth of one per cent.

At the same time, spendable earnings and buying power of the average worker rose to a record high.

Somewhat lower food prices, and modest declines in most other consumer buying categories brought the living cost index down to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Announcing the figure today, Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said a rise of seven-tenths of one per cent from November 1960, represented the smallest November-to-November living cost increase since 1955.

He predicted another small decline for December.

"We're pretty sure we'll have another little drop," he said. "The indications point in that direction. But we don't think we'll have any big decline."

In November, costs of both toys and sporting goods, items that are in heavy demand as Christmas gifts, were down by two-tenths of one per cent from the level of a year earlier.

Spendable earnings and buying power of the average factory worker rose to a new record level in November.

The factory worker's weekly earnings after federal income and Social Security taxes rose by about $1 from the October level to $85.03. The figure is for the worker with a family of four.

Over the year the average factory worker's spendable earnings have increased by more than $5 a week, or about 7 per cent.

School Bond Issue Sold

The Beaver Local School District Board of Education Thursday night awarded to Braun, Bosworth Co. of Toledo contract for the sale of $253,000 in bonds for financing construction of school additions.

The firm bid 3⅞ per cent interest with a $1,706 premium. Six bids were received.

Harry Greenwood, clerk, pointed out a recent Ohio law allowing bids in minimums of one eighth instead of the previous one fourth per cent, permitted the district to save the one eighth per cent because 3¾ per cent would have been too low for the bonding firms. Three of the bidders offered 4 per cent interest.

Plans for the additions are being prepared by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, and advertising for bids is expected in January. The bond issue was approved by voters in November.

The State of Arizona has the largest Indian population in the United States, with the Hopi, Navajo and Apache tribes spread over fourteen reservations.

was botched because the would-be safecrackers used the wrong mixture of gas and air and did not get a sharp cutting flame, officers said.

Manager of the freight terminal is Kenneth Buckley, 407 Burrows Ave. The entry apparently occurred between midnight and 7:45 this morning, when it was discovered by a driver reporting for work.

As there was no sign of forcible entry on an exterior door or window, the burglars may have hidden in the building — which was open until midnight — and then attacked the safe after the force knocked off work, police said.

Exit was made via a door at the rear of the building.

The intruders forced their way into Buckley's office, where the safe is located, and a dispatcher's office in the center of the building, officers said.

A lock was pried off the door of the dispatcher's office. The interior door of the main office also was forced.

The torch was used to cut a half circle in the metal around the safe's handle. Then the intruders hammered at the dial and the handle, breaking it off, and attempted to force the door with the crowbar.

Two other breaking and entering cases were reported last night.

Mrs. Pearl Buzzard, 416 College St., told police an intruder entered her rooming house between 7:30 and 10 p. m. by drilling holes around the lock on the back door. A small safe had been moved into the diningroom of the home, but it had not been opened, she said.

Mrs. Melba Chapman, 413 College St., told police at 11 last night an intruder entered her apartment and scattered her clothing and other possessions, but nothing apparently was missing.

"I take this opportunity to give my best wishes to all the American people," the white-haired envoy said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Crooner Bing Crosby, 57, was hospitalized early today after complaining of abdominal pains after a dinner party.

School Well Contract Let

The Horton Pump Co. of Columbiana was awarded a contract Thursday night by the Southern Local School District Board of Education for drilling a well at the site of the planned new high school.

Horton's bid, along with those of O. E. Miller of East Liverpool and Smith Drilling of Elkton, were not made known to the board, but Horton was recommended by T. V. Utterback of the construction division of the Ohio Department of Education.

The well is to be drilled for less than $4,000, and thus would not have to be advertised for bids, officials said.

Smith was the only one to submit a bid when first requested, but the state would not act on just one bid. The other two firms then submitted bids.

The Miller firm said today its bid was $3 a foot for drilling, plus $750 for testing and $4 a foot for casing — up to the maximum of 270 feet.

Jack Baker, executive head of the district, and Robert Beatty, architect, said the terms of the other bids were not known. Horton was out on a job this morning and could not be contacted.

Baker said the drilling operation is to begin next week.

Donald Bookman, 19, of St. Clair Ave. Ext. was fined $25 and $7.50 costs on each of two charges when he pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court before Acting Judge Donald D. Shay.

Bookman told the court he forgot to renew his former driver's license, which expired last June 30. Officer Carter testified Bookman passed two cars which were halted at a traffic light at Dresden Ave. and W. 9th St. and passed another vehicle in a no-passing zone a short distance away.

Bus Carrying Blind Pupils Rolls Again

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A little bus that makes a 68 - mile daily round trip to carry eight blind youngsters to and from school is rolling again.

A few weeks ago the bus operation was in trouble. The parents needed $1,000 to repair the creaking vehicle and meet other expenses for the remainder of the year.

Then a Charleston auto dealer came to the rescue, overhauling the bus without charge. A rent-a-car firm loaned a station wagon for use while the bus was being repaired. Then a bake sale held by the parents netted $75 and several donations were received.

As a result the bus again is running from Nitro, west to Charleston, to the Glenwood School here, where special classes are held for the blind.

Woman Hurt In Car Crash In Unity Area

A Darlington woman was injured in a one-car mishap on Route 14 near Unity early this morning, while five other drivers —including four from the East Liverpool area — escaped injury in three traffic crashes Thursday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mrs. Burdell McCowin, 35, suffered lacerations of the head and neck when her car went off Route 14 near the Pennsylvania line about 5:30 a. m.

She was taken to Salem City Hospital. Witnesses said Mrs. McCowin was returning home from the Hideaway, a Unity area restaurant where she is a waitress.

Betty Jane Fey, 37, of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, was cited for improper passing after her car collided with another on Route 30 at the intersection with Route 170 about 8:10 p. m. yesterday.

Officers said she was headed north, passing a car operated by Harry Pethtel, 40, of the Y. & O. Rd. when her auto hit the front of his as she pulled in ahead of him. Damage was moderate, officers said.

Peter M. Rohall, 37, of Old Fredericktown Rd. escaped injury when his car swerved off a curve of Route 164 at the "Y" intersection with Route 39 near Salineville at 5:45 p. m. and struck guardrails.

Officers continued a search for the driver of a car which collided with one operated by Mrs. Doris S. Thompson of Glenmoor on Route 30 about four miles east of Minerva yesterday morning about 11.

Mrs. Thompson said she was driving west when the other auto, a 1953 sedan with Ohio plates, rounded a curve left of center and struck her auto.

When she went to phone officers, the other driver left the scene, she said. Damage to her auto was moderate, the patrol reported.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A little bus that makes a 68 - mile daily round trip to carry eight blind youngsters to and from school is rolling again.

A few weeks ago the bus operation was in trouble. The parents needed $1,000 to repair the creaking vehicle and meet other expenses for the remainder of the year.

Then a Charleston auto dealer came to the rescue, overhauling the bus without charge. A rent-a-car firm loaned a station wagon for use while the bus was being repaired. Then a bake sale held by the parents netted $75 and several donations were received.

As a result the bus again is running from Nitro, west to Charleston, to the Glenwood School here, where special classes are held for the blind.

Lucy Chooses Up Sides

One of Lucy Jarvis' jobs is to find out what Americans like to argue about, then see to it that the sides are chosen up evenly.

Hal Humphrey

She is associate producer of NBC's "Nation's Future" debate program, which last season was on the air each Saturday night until it was gunned down by "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Gunsmoke" on CBS. This season, NBC has moved old hit movies in to do battle with the CBS cowboys, but with little more success.

"Nation's Future," unfortunately, has been relegated to the Sunday afternoon "Ghetto" (5 to 6) and then only on every fifth Sunday.

"Naturally, we were disappointed, but my job has been made so much easier. You can't imagine the problems, and doing it each week was just murderous," Lucy says.

HER CHIEF CONCERN is to line up capable debaters, then make sure that the audience in the studio is not numerically loaded for either side.

This latter problem is solved by Lucy's approaching groups and organizations in the city where the debate is to be originated. She passes out limited numbers of tickets to each group, making sure that politically they range from left to center to right.

"I still don't understand it, but the most violent program we've ever had was on fluoridating drinking water. Extra police had to be called out, and everyone still was arguing when we went off the air," Lucy recalls, shivering.

Mayor Stanley Davis of Grand Rapids, Mich., took the pro side of the question, while Atlanta's Mayor William B. Hartsfield represented the cons. Antifluoridationists boil as readily a antivivisectionists, Lucy has learned to her dismay.

ANOTHER "Nation's Future" she won't readily forget is A. A. Berle's debate with Rep. Charles O. Porter, D-Ore., on U.S. policy toward Cuba. The debate itself was aired from New York, but Lucy set up a "remote" audience in Miami, Fla., to participate in the question period.

"We even had fist-fights in the hallway," she says. "But the most difficult chore was finding enough pro-Castro people to come to the studio."

Lucy heard about a Miami cafe's being bombed by anti-Castroites and found that the owner was a pro-Castro man. She gave tickets to him to pass around. On the evening of the broadcast, Lucy had to persuade a CIA man not to throw out a "Communist" he spotted in the audience.

PROGRAMS like that one, the fluoridation debacle and one on the subject of congressional investigations of loyalty drew hundreds of letters afterward. Despite Lucy Jarvis' care in selecting her audiences, however, much of the mail accused NBC of stacking the studio.

According to Lucy's experience in lining up audiences, the right wingers have become more vociferous and enthusiastic for their causes, and she has had trouble prodding the left into attending "Nation's Future."

She got her biggest fright in Chicago, where no one she contacted seemed to give a whoop about attending a debate between Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff about the success or failure of President Kennedy's domestic policies thus far.

"NO ONE seemed the slightest interested, but we did turn 40 people away when the day for the telecast actually arrived," she reports.

Because the next "Nation's Future" is scheduled for Christmas Eve, Lucy felt a debate would be out of place. Instead, she is arranging a panel discussion on the topic, "Religion in the Nuclear Age."

Panel members include Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D - Minn., psychoanalyst - author Dr. Rollo May and Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard professor emeritus.

Personally, I believe that Lucy and producers Irving Gitlin and Arthur Barron frequently come up with more genuine excitement than Marshal Dillon or Paladin are dispensing this season. Maybe NBC ran in those old movies too soon.

The store here employs 27, several of whom have more than 15 years service. Hossler has been its manager for 11 years.

$500,000 Suit Filed

CINCINNATI (AP)—A suit asking $500,000 was filed Thursday against James Luken, rebel union leader, by Harold J. Gibbons, a Teamsters Union official. The U. S. District Court suit claimed Luken holds money and property belonging to the old Local 98 of the Teamsters.

Nine Indicted For Numbers In Cincinnati

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A federal grand jury has rocked the numbers racket operations in greater Cincinnati with the indictments of nine men, but its work isn't over.

The panel returned a sealed indictment Thursday, then went back to closed sessions centering apparently on operations of the Frolics Club in Newport, Ky.

The panel elected to recess, however, until Jan. 1 after hearing six witnesses.

The indictment—sealed so that marshals and federal agents could get a head start on arresting the men named—accused the nine of conspiring to evade $387,555 in wagering taxes.

Four of the nine were arrested shortly after return of the indictment. They were:

Frank (Bud) Androila, 39, of Cincinnati, nephew of Frank J. (Screw) Andrews; Daniel (Spider) Andrews, 59, Cold Spring, Ky., Screw Andrews' brothers and business associate; Walter Owens, 50, Cincinnati, identified as manager of the old Sportsman's Club in Newport, and Louis Tye, 38, Cincinnati, a clerk at the club.

The four were released for a hearing March 12 under bond of $10,000 for Andriola, 15,000 for Andrews and Ownes, and $5,000 for Tye.

The charges carrying penalities up to five years in prison and $10,000 in fines.

The others indicted were: Screw Andrews, 51, of Cold Spring; Peter A. (Junior) Andrews, 33, Monfort Heights, Ohio, his nephew and associate; Russell A. Malone, 43; Gus (Whiskey Gus) Postel, 43, and Willard Whitley, 55, all of Cincinnati.

The joint indictments covered 32 counts involving operations from 1955 to last August.

The indictment said the nine reported gross business from numbers operations of $1,196,379 and paid the 10 per cent federal gambling excise tax on it.

The indictment charged they should have reported business grossing $5,071,930 and paid a tax of $507,193.

One separate count charged the defendants caused Cincinnati and Suburban Telephone Co. and Citizens Bell Telephone Co. to furnish facilities at Newport's Corner Liquor Store for illegal gambling use.

McElroy Says School Boards May Require Fingerprinting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled today a school board may require the fingerprinting of prospective employes.

He added that statute provides for removing any school employe who advocates or retains membership in an organization advocating overthrow of the government by force, violence or other unlawful means.

"The above noted restrictions," McElroy said, "have been inserted in the law for the protection of the students and the public in general, as the moral caliber of the school teachers of the state is of the utmost importance to the public welfare.

"In ascertaining the fitness of job applicants, the use of fingerprints would appear to be of considerable value to the school board."

The opinion to State Auditor James A. Rhodes said that if a city did the fingerprinting, it could charge the board for the service.

Another opinion to Montgomery County Prosecutor Paul R. Young said library trustees may buy kitchen units to prepare meals for employes in library branches where eating facilities are not available.

The ruling added that it would not be unreasonable for trustees to adopt a rule reducing the time allowed staff members for meals to increase efficiency of library service to the public.

McElroy told Tuscarawas County Prosecutor Harlan R. Spies that township trustees lacked authority to condemn abandoned church property. But the attorney general pointed out that private individuals could petition a court for sale of dilapidated and abandoned church property.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Clifford William Lyon, 34, of suburban Groesbeck died of a broken neck Thursday night when the car he was in hit a utility pole on the West Side.

ASE Begins Program Of Reformation

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Stock Exchange has begun reformation moves.

An investigating committee of its own members recommended reorganization of the nation's No. 2 securities market to the board of governors Thursday.

"A fundamental revision of the exchange and its administrative machinery is necessary and should be undertaken without delay," it said.

The nine-member committee of broker members was appointed Oct. 12 to review the exchange's rules, policies and procedures.

This came after the Securities and Exchange Commission had launched its own investigation following a price manipulating scandal involving two specialists, the father and son team of Jerry and Gerard Re.

The Res were suspended by the SEC and later arrested.

The exchange committee's interim report came only 10 days after the resignation of Edward T. McCormick from the $75,000-a-year exchange presidency.

McCormick, 50, and general counsel Michael E. Mooney, who quit with him, said they felt they should sever connections because of "recent publicity."

There had been complaints of laxity in enforcing exchange rules and policies, and McCormick's administration had been under pressure from elements of the financial community.

Noting the tremendous growth of the exchange in new listings and trading volume in the last 10 years, during which McCormick was president, the committee said: "These facts make it clear that the administration, staff and membership of the exchange have a broad public trust. Their actions at all times must both seem and be right. Those in positions of authority at the exchange should not tolerate any deviation from this mandate."

The committee called the exchange's existing organization, "including reliance on an awkward committee system," inadequate.

It recommended that the nine standing committees be eliminated because the system "has demonstrated its inherent weaknesses" including "division of authority and an absence of well-defined responsibility."

Santa Finds Justice In Christmas Spirit

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Santa Claus found justice in the holiday spirit when he appeared before Municipal Court Judge Donald Hanni on a charge of going through a stop sign.

Appearing in his red costume with beard and all the trimmings Thursday Roy Pearson, employed as a Santa at a downtown store, received a suspended $10 fine and good wishes of the season.

Santa went back to the business at hand, spreading joy to the young and hope to older folk. He plans to drive his "sleigh" with more caution in the future.

Nine Indicted For Numbers In Cincinnati

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A federal grand jury has rocked the numbers racket operations in greater Cincinnati with the indictments of nine men, but its work isn't over.

The panel returned a sealed indictment Thursday, then went back to closed sessions centering apparently on operations of the Frolics Club in Newport, Ky.

The panel elected to recess, however, until Jan. 1 after hearing six witnesses.

The indictment—sealed so that marshals and federal agents could get a head start on arresting the men named—accused the nine of conspiring to evade $387,555 in wagering taxes.

Four of the nine were arrested shortly after return of the indictment. They were:

Frank (Bud) Androila, 39, of Cincinnati, nephew of Frank J. (Screw) Andrews; Daniel (Spider) Andrews, 59, Cold Spring, Ky., Screw Andrews' brothers and business associate; Walter Owens, 50, Cincinnati, identified as manager of the old Sportsman's Club in Newport, and Louis Tye, 38, Cincinnati, a clerk at the club.

The four were released for a hearing March 12 under bond of $10,000 for Andriola, 15,000 for Andrews and Ownes, and $5,000 for Tye.

The charges carrying penalities up to five years in prison and $10,000 in fines.

The others indicted were: Screw Andrews, 51, of Cold Spring; Peter A. (Junior) Andrews, 33, Monfort Heights, Ohio, his nephew and associate; Russell A. Malone, 43; Gus (Whiskey Gus) Postel, 43, and Willard Whitley, 55, all of Cincinnati.

The joint indictments covered 32 counts involving operations from 1955 to last August.

The indictment said the nine reported gross business from numbers operations of $1,196,379 and paid the 10 per cent federal gambling excise tax on it.

The indictment charged they should have reported business grossing $5,071,930 and paid a tax of $507,193.

One separate count charged the defendants caused Cincinnati and Suburban Telephone Co. and Citizens Bell Telephone Co. to furnish facilities at Newport's Corner Liquor Store for illegal gambling use.

McElroy Says School Boards May Require Fingerprinting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled today a school board may require the fingerprinting of prospective employes.

He added that statute provides for removing any school employe who advocates or retains membership in an organization advocating overthrow of the government by force, violence or other unlawful means.

"The above noted restrictions," McElroy said, "have been inserted in the law for the protection of the students and the public in general, as the moral caliber of the school teachers of the state is of the utmost importance to the public welfare.

"In ascertaining the fitness of job applicants, the use of fingerprints would appear to be of considerable value to the school board."

The opinion to State Auditor James A. Rhodes said that if a city did the fingerprinting, it could charge the board for the service.

Another opinion to Montgomery County Prosecutor Paul R. Young said library trustees may buy kitchen units to prepare meals for employes in library branches where eating facilities are not available.

The ruling added that it would not be unreasonable for trustees to adopt a rule reducing the time allowed staff members for meals to increase efficiency of library service to the public.

McElroy told Tuscarawas County Prosecutor Harlan R. Spies that township trustees lacked authority to condemn abandoned church property. But the attorney general pointed out that private individuals could petition a court for sale of dilapidated and abandoned church property.

ASE Begins Program Of Reformation

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Stock Exchange has begun reformation moves.

An investigating committee of its own members recommended reorganization of the nation's No. 2 securities market to the board of governors Thursday.

"A fundamental revision of the exchange and its administrative machinery is necessary and should be undertaken without delay," it said.

The nine-member committee of broker members was appointed Oct. 12 to review the exchange's rules, policies and procedures.

This came after the Securities and Exchange Commission had launched its own investigation following a price manipulating scandal involving two specialists, the father and son team of Jerry and Gerard Re.

The Res were suspended by the SEC and later arrested.

The exchange committee's interim report came only 10 days after the resignation of Edward T. McCormick from the $75,000-a-year exchange presidency.

McCormick, 50, and general counsel Michael E. Mooney, who quit with him, said they felt they should sever connections because of "recent publicity."

There had been complaints of laxity in enforcing exchange rules and policies, and McCormick's administration had been under pressure from elements of the financial community.

Noting the tremendous growth of the exchange in new listings and trading volume in the last 10 years, during which McCormick was president, the committee said: "These facts make it clear that the administration, staff and membership of the exchange have a broad public trust. Their actions at all times must both seem and be right. Those in positions of authority at the exchange should not tolerate any deviation from this mandate."

The committee called the exchange's existing organization, "including reliance on an awkward committee system," inadequate.

It recommended that the nine standing committees be eliminated because the system "has demonstrated its inherent weaknesses" including "division of authority and an absence of well-defined responsibility."

Santa went back to the business at hand, spreading joy to the young and hope to older folk. He plans to drive his "sleigh" with more caution in the future.

Driver Hurt As Auto Rams Wall On Turn

A 19-year-old driver is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered early this morning when his auto smashed into a stone retaining wall on a curve on the west end of the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." between E. 4th St. and Vine St.

Ronald Jay Prince of Shadyside Ave. suffered a severe laceration of the forehead and contusions of both knees in the mishap at 12:04 a.m. Prince's 1957 model convertible was eastbound when it struck the wall 50 feet west of E. 4th St., officers said. The left side and front of Prince's car were damaged. Patrolman Paul E. Carter investigated.

Charged with reckless driving, he is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court after his release from the hospital.

In another collision at 7:40 p. m. Thursday, a car knocked down a tree between the curb and the sidewalk in the 1300 block of St. Clair Ave., police said.

The auto went over the curb and knocked down a shade tree about 20 feet high and a foot in diameter at the base, officers said. The auto's driver was not identified. The tree is on the property of Mrs. Roy Welch, 1308 St. Clair, officers said. Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice filed the report.

No one was hurt when a woman's auto hit the side of a turning tanker truck Thursday afternoon at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way, police said.

Katherine F. Gilkinson, 34, of R.D. 1 said the crash was caused when power brakes failed on her 1957 two-door sedan as she attempted to halt for a traffic light.

Her auto hit the left side of a tanker driven by Jack Emch, 42, of Girard and owned by E. Brooke Matlack, Inc., of Philadelphia officers said.

The woman said she was driving south on Dresden about 15 to 20 miles an hour and the tanker was turning from east to north.

She said the traffic signal turned red, but when she attempted to halt the brakes failed and she hit the left side of the big rig. There was damage to the right front fender, bumper and headlight of the auto. An unloading line on the tanker was broken, police said.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

"A Merry Christmas to All!"

Synopsis: Santa and King Ferdinand have solved the mystery of the Ipswitch. It is a giant shoe inhabited by tiny men who have been summoned to terrorrize the Kingdom of Polydora by the King's traitorous Minister of Science.

CHAPTER 17

"What!" cried the King. "My own Minister of Science caused my downfall?"

"It is true," said the Scaraboo. "The Minister wanted to be King. He plans to replace all the other ministers with machines and to do away with farms and houses and such.

He says this is the Age of Science and the Kingdom of Polydora is a thousand years behind the times. Instead of raising food the people will now make food pills in factories. And instead of houses they will live in underground caves. And—"

"Oh, this is dreadful!" moaned the King. My poor people!"

The Scaraboos were overcome with remorse. "He promised us half the Kingdom," said the leader, "And we did so want to get away from this island! But what fun would it be to haunt a kingdom of machines?"

Santa said, "And Christmas? Will they have Christmas in the new Polydora?"

THE SCARABOOS looked at him in dismay. "We never thought of that! But it's true — the Minister doesn't believe in Santa Claus."

"Ah," said Santa sadly. "Then I too shall vanish for to exist at all I must be believed in. And sooner or later he will get rid of you too, for haunts have no place in a Scientific Age."

The Scaraboos felt worse and worse. They clustered around Santa sobbing, "What shall we do?"

Suddenly the King took a deep breath and threw back his shoulders. "I am still the rightful King of Polydora. I shall return and save my kingdom!"

Then all the Scaraboos and Santa and the King climbed into the big shoe and sailed away from the lonely island. When they came to shore all the Scaraboos took a big hop. The shoe leaped forward and landed with a thud miles away. Again and again they hopped until they came to Polydora.

The people shook with terror to see the shoe settle down in the Public Square. The Minister of Science, wearing Ferdinand's crown, strode furiously from the palace.

HE SHOOK his fist at the shoe and cried, "Be off! I don't want you anymore." But the shoe just sat there. The Minister got madder and madder. He was about to set fire to the shoe when Santa and the King, still dressed as shoeshine boys, popped out and climbed to the ground.

The astonished minister drew his sword and threw himself at the King but Ferdinand snatched the sword away and turned it on the Minister. Then the Scaraboos, working faster than the eye could see, pinned the Minister's arms to his sides and moved the crown from the Minister's head to that of the King.

"What is this?" cried the people.

Ferdinand stripped off his disguise and stood forth in his rightful royal dress. "All your troubles are at an end," he declared. "I am your King and the Ipswitch is no more."

Then he told the people all that had happened. The people were furious and demanded that the Minister be put to death. But the King said, "I have a better idea. I shall exile him to the Island of the Scaraboos where he will be all alone and sleep in a cave and eat food pills and even turn into a machine if he so desires."

"And the Scaraboos?" asked the people.

"They will live in our land forevermore," said the King.

A mighty cheer went up from the people and a teeny, tiny cheer from the teeny, tiny Scaraboos. Then the people said, "Your Majesty, it is Christmas eve. Will we have Christmas this year?"

Santa Claus threw up his hands. "Christmas Eve! Goodness gracious!" He stripped off his disguise. "Yes, indeed. You will have Christmas this year but I must hurry, hurry!"

And with a wave of his hand to the happy king he rushed away. When he reached the bend in the road he returned and shouted, "A Merry Christmas to All!"

Bank At Columbiana Sues Over Car Titles

LISBON — A suit for $33,745.25 over duplicate auto title loans was filed Thursday by the Union Banking Co. of Columbiana.

The U.S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co. of Columbiana is defendant.

The bank said it was insured from Dec. 30, 1960, to April 4, 1961, in a "blanket bond" policy which it claims covered losses for certificates which were forged when money was loaned on auto titles issued to the former Valley Motor Sales & Service in East Palestine. They were signed by James T. Johnston and Charles R. Ludwig, who were acquitted in jury trials on charges of making false affidavits in obtaining auto titles.

Polite Robber Makes His 'Call' At Wrong Time

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police were wondering whether the polite bandit would repeat his call at the Thomas Bookkeeping Service Thursday night.

The bandit, described as a slight, neatly dressed young man, entered the office early Thursday afternoon and asked about a job.

Mrs. Frances Thomas, 50, wife of the owner, said there were no openings.

The young man drew a revolver and handed her a note and a paper bag. "This is a holdup," he declared.

"This isn't a building and loan. I haven't any money," said Mrs. Thomas, pushing the unread note note back to the gunman.

"I'm sorry, lady," said the would-be robber. He picked up the bag and note, and left.

Police said the bandit's mistake was one of timing—the Workingman's Building and Savings Co. operates from the same rooms as the bookkeeping service, but at night.

Courthouse Janitors Make Appeal Of Own

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Clermont County's courthouse janitors decided Thursday to make a Christmas appeal on behalf of themselves.

A kneeling Santa was set up in the courthouse lobby overlooking a coin can with the inscription: "For the neediest janitors of all."

The janitors didn't say whether their recent pay cut or the county's general depressed status led to classifying themselves as needy.

Peace..... Good Will to Men

In the heavens a bright star shone, and to the quiet little town of Bethlehem were drawn the shepherds and the Wise Men for there, on that night more than nineteen centuries ago, was born the Prince of Peace. And the angel heralding His arrival said "Peace on earth, good will to men." In this Holy Season, as the threat of conflict hangs heavy over the earth, Christians turn to the inspiring message of Christmas. In it is found a lesson for the world that men and nations can live together in peace and good will. This is the spirit of Christmas. And indeed, this is the hope of mankind!

Driver Hurt As Auto Rams Wall On Turn

A 19-year-old driver is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered early this morning when his auto smashed into a stone retaining wall on a curve on the west end of the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." between E. 4th St. and Vine St.

Ronald Jay Prince of Shadyside Ave. suffered a severe laceration of the forehead and contusions of both knees in the mishap at 12:04 a.m. Prince's 1957 model convertible was eastbound when it struck the wall 50 feet west of E. 4th St., officers said. The left side and front of Prince's car were damaged. Patrolman Paul E. Carter investigated.

Charged with reckless driving, he is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court after his release from the hospital.

In another collision at 7:40 p.m. Thursday, a car knocked down a tree between the curb and the sidewalk in the 1300 block of St. Clair Ave., police said.

The auto went over the curb and knocked down a shade tree about 20 feet high and a foot in diameter at the base, officers said. The auto's driver was not identified. The tree is on the property of Mrs. Roy Welch, 1308 St. Clair, officers said. Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice filed the report.

No one was hurt when a woman's auto hit the side of a turning tanker truck Thursday afternoon at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way, police said.

Katherine F. Gilkinson, 34, of R.D. 1 said the crash was caused when power brakes failed on her 1957 two-door sedan as she attempted to halt for a traffic light.

Her auto hit the left side of a tanker driven by Jack Emch, 42, of Girard and owned by E. Brooke Matlack, Inc., of Philadelphia officers said.

The woman said she was driving south on Dresden about 15 to 20 miles an hour and the tanker was turning from east to north.

She said the traffic signal turned red, but when she attempted to halt the brakes failed and she hit the left side of the big rig. There was damage to the right front fender, bumper and headlight of the auto. An unloading line on the tanker was broken, police said.

Seventeen puppies will spend a happy holiday — if they can find a home for Christmas.

Long is at the dog pound at 5 p.m. each day or may be contacted by calling LE. 2-1951.

Sixty-seven dogs were given away in November, he added.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

"A Merry Christmas to All!"

Synopsis: Santa and King Ferdinand have solved the mystery of the Ipswitch. It is a giant shoe inhabited by tiny men who have been summoned to terrorize the Kingdom of Polydora by the King's traitorous Minister of Science.

CHAPTER 17

"What!" cried the King. "My own Minister of Science caused my downfall?"

"It is true," said the Scaraboo. "The Minister wanted to be King. He plans to replace all the other ministers with machines and to do away with farms and houses and such.

He says this is the Age of Science and the Kingdom of Polydora is a thousand years behind the times. Instead of raising food the people will now make food pills in factories. And instead of houses they will live in underground caves. And—"

"Oh, this is dreadful!" moaned the King. My poor people!"

The Scaraboos were overcome with remorse. "He promised us half the Kingdom," said the leader, "And we did so want to get away from this island! But what fun would it be to haunt a kingdom of machines?"

Santa said, "And Christmas? Will they have Christmas in the new Polydora?"

THE SCARABOOS looked at him in dismay. "We never thought of that! But it's true — the Minister doesn't believe in Santa Claus."

"Ah," said Santa sadly. "Then I too shall vanish for to exist at all I must be believed in. And sooner or later he will get rid of you too, for haunts have no place in a Scientific Age."

The Scaraboos felt worse and worse. They clustered around Santa sobbing, "What shall we do?"

Suddenly the King took a deep breath and threw back his shoulders. "I am still the rightful King of Polydora. I shall return and save my kingdom!"

Then all the Scaraboos and Santa and the King climbed into the big shoe and sailed away from the lonely island. When they came to shore all the Scaraboos took a big hop. The shoe leaped forward and landed with a thud miles away. Again and again they hopped until they came to Polydora.

The people shook with terror to see the shoe settle down in the Public Square. The Minister of Science, wearing Ferdinand's crown, strode furiously from the palace.

HE SHOOK his fist at the shoe and cried, "Be off! I don't want you anymore." But the shoe just sat there. The Minister got madder and madder. He was about to set fire to the shoe when Santa and the King, still dressed as shoeshine boys, popped out and climbed to the ground.

The astonished minister drew his sword and threw himself at the King but Ferdinand snatched the sword away and turned it on the Minister. Then the Scaraboos, working faster than the eye could see, pinned the Minister's arms to his sides and moved the crown from the Minister's head to that of the King.

"What is this?" cried the people.

Ferdinand stripped off his disguise and stood forth in his rightful royal dress. "All your troubles are at an end," he declared. "I am your King and the Ipswitch is no more."

Then he told the people all that had happened. The people were furious and demanded that the Minister be put to death. But the King said, "I have a better idea. I shall exile him to the Island of the Scaraboos where he will be all alone and sleep in a cave and eat food pills and even turn into a machine if he so desires."

"And the Scaraboos?" asked the people.

"They will live in our land forevermore," said the King.

A mighty cheer went up from the people and a teeny, tiny cheer from the teeny, tiny Scaraboos. Then the people said, "Your Majesty, it is Christmas eve. Will we have Christmas this year?"

Santa Claus threw up his hands. "Christmas Eve! Goodness gracious!" He stripped off his disguise. "Yes, indeed. You will have Christmas this year but I must hurry, hurry!"

And with a wave of his hand to the happy king he rushed away. When he reached the bend in the road he returned and shouted, "A Merry Christmas to All!"

Coaches Have Other Worries . . .

The outcome of tonight's East Liverpool-Midland battle at Memorial Auditorium probably will mean more to the loyal backers of the respective teams than to the coaches themselves.

Naturally, all coaches want to win regardless of the importance of the game, but you can be sure that coach Jim Harris of the Potters and Hank Kuzma of the Leopards are looking ahead to future wars when league competition is involved.

Harris admits, "If we have to lose one of the two games this weekend, I would rather lose the game with Midland." Jim, a real competitor at all times, means that Saturday's game with Massillon can mean more in the long run since it is a Big 8 Conference affair and the Potters can gain much more prestige throughout Ohio by winning that one.

And Kuzma is directing his team through its usual exhibition season before the rugged Pennsylvania Sectional play gets under way. Midland's championship season won't begin until Jan. 2 when the Leopards take the floor in their first Section 8 test against Hopewell.

There's one thing that should not be forgotten, however: The team winding up on the losing end will be knocked out of a chance for an undefeated season.

So when the loyal fans begin screaming and the inter-city rivalry reaches its peak you can be sure that both coaches will be going all out for victory, league competition or no league competition.

HARRIS, in his third year as head coach at East Liverpool, is off to his best start.

A year ago the Potters lost the opener, while a year before they won their opener but dropped the season's second contest to Wellsville.

See Home Floor Advantage . . .

WE'RE USING the cyrstal ball again in predicting the winner of tonight's game.

The ball has been clouded for some time, but — as in the past— clears up on the day of a big game. From this corner, it is East Liverpool to nip Midland by three points.

Our prediction is based on the strength of the home floor. We feel the teams are that evenly matched. If the game was being played in Midland, the Leopards would be our choice. From past performances, we never have seen Midland play its best on the M-A floor. Tonight could be different, naturally.

In Saturday's game at Massillon, we will stick with the Potters again by an eight-poirt advantage.

Two other games this weekend involve Wellsville. We are picking the Tigers by wide margins tonight at Beaver Local and Saturday at Lisbon.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WHEN Salem defeated East Palestine Tuesday night it marked the 300th victory in the career for coach John Cabas.

His career includes coaching Columbiana to a stage Class "B" runnerup spot in 1945 and to the state title in 1947. Cabas went to Salem in 1950 and since then has won 170 games while losing 58.

WELLSVILLE'S Phil Baldwin was one of the freshmen football players receiving numerals and sweaters for his part in the undefeated four-game schedule posted by the Bowling Green frosh.

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Jim Potts and Ray ('Beau') Bell of East Palestine received varsity awards at Bowling Green following the completion of the football season. Potts, home from Bowling Green for the holidays, enjoyed the trip to Los Angeles and the Mercy Bowl, but quickly admitted that the Falcons played their worst game in his three years when they were drubbed by Fresno State.

JIM KAPP, a former Bill Booth Award winner, received another award at Wooster College recently for his help in practice and off the field during the Scots football campaign.

Jim was injured last season and was not permitted to play anymore football, so he became a student assistant coach. He was the first to receive such an award presented by Phil Shipe, head football coach at Wooster.

Gaydos Stars; Beavers Wait Tigers

Tom McCall received his Christmas gift three days early Thursday night when his game Beaver Local five presented him with his first victory as head coach.

The win was a come-from-behind triumph for the underrated Beavers who edged Newell, 64-60, on the Beaver Local floor.

Beaver Local will take a 1-1 record against arch rival Wellsville in tonight's game set for the Williamsport gym.

Trailing 51-43 going into the fourth quarter, the Beavers, with a balanced attack, caught the Vikings and then passed them in the closing minutes. The loss was Newell's third in five starts.

Four Beaver Local starters finished in the double figures led by George Gaydos, a junior, who poured in 18. John Broadbent flipped in an important 12 points while Rich Aluilus scored 11 and John Baker 10.

McCall's squad had to overcome a one-two scoring punch of veteran Mick Staley who tallied 26 and the district's leading scorer Dave Bell who hit for 21.

Beaver Local trailed at the end of the first quarter, 13-10, but came on to grab a 30-28 lead at halftime. Newell, with Staley and Bell pounding the nets, took a 51-43 advantage after three periods which was later relinquished.

Both teams lost important figures late in the fourth quarter when Gaydos went the foul route for the Beavers and Bell left the game about the same time.

Coach John Pape's Beaver Local reserve squad defeated the Newell jayvees, 39-22.

3-Year Pact For $80,000

Browns Invest New $ High In Rookie; Davis To Sign

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ernie Davis "sacrificed a very substantial sum of money" in accepting an offer to play with the Cleveland Browns, according to attorney Anthony W. DeFilippo, adviser to the All-America halfback from Syracuse.

Arthur B. Modell, front-office boss for the Browns, announced Thursday night that Davis had agreed to sign a three-year contract with the Browns for $80,000 —$65,000 salary plus a $15,000 bonus. This is the most the Browns ever have invested in a rookie, but Jim Brown, who reportedly received $31,000 this year still is the highest paid player on the club.

The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League also were bidding for Davis, and Dick Gallagher, general manager of the Bills, said Davis had been offered a three-year deal worth "well over $100,000." Reports were the Buffalo offer was worth $135,000.

Modell was delighted.

"There just aren't words to express my happiness now that Ernie has decided to play with us," the board chairman of the National Football League club declared. "It's certainly gratifying to know that young athletes like Davis consider their long-range future rather than immediate financial gain."

Brown preceded Davis at Syracuse, and many of the records the big fullback set there were broken by the 6-foot-2, 215-pound Davis.

It was on Brown's advice that Davis went to Syracuse, and Brown presented the NFL club's case when Davis was trying to make up his mind on a pro career.

Modell and coach Paul E. Brown had been sweating out that decision. The Browns have gambled quite a bit on being able to sign Davis. Cleveland traded speedy Bobby Mitchell and a first-round draft choice to the Washington Redskins to get a chance at Davis.

The Redskins, with first choice at the nation's collegiate talent in the NFL draft early this month, took Davis for Cleveland, and the Browns, drafting farther down the line, took Leroy Jackson, Western Illinois halfback, for Washington. If Cleveland had failed to sign Davis, Mitchell still would have gone to Washington.

Davis is on the West Coast working out with the East team for the East-West Shrine game a week from Saturday. Modell said he will fly to San Francisco next week to get Davis' signature on the contract.

Conkle's 15, Tridico Pace Tuttle's Five

Jim Conkle and Jim Tridico combined to score 27 points and lead the Chester Panthers to a 39-36 victory over South Side Thursday night on the Chester floor.

The victory put Chester even for the season at 2-2 as Coach Max Tuttle's team takes a brief holiday break before returning to action next Friday.

Conkle tallied 15 points and Tridico wound up with 12 markers. It was one of the top performances of Conkle's varsity career.

The South Side five, which lost its fifth game in seven stars, came close at times, but couldn't get in front of the Panthers.

Chester took a 10-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and owned a 21-16 margin at halftime. South Side came within one point, 25-24, in the third period, but Chester went on to score five straight points and grab a 30-24 margin when the quarter ended.

Dale Ashcroft led all scorers as he tallied 16 points for Coach Dave Nichol's Rams. Cecil Frazier was next in line with nine.

South Side now looks ahead to its holiday tournament which gets underway Dec. 28, with finals on Dec. 29.

General Admission Tickets Available

Tonight's East Liverpool-Midland game is not a sellout and about 600 general admission seats will go on sale when the doors open at 6:15 at Memorial Auditorium, Merrill Hall, ELHS athletic director, said. All of the reserved chair seats are gone, Hall pointed out.

Backyard Rivalry Seen Tossup; Full House Expected At M-A

Every seat in Memorial Auditorium is expected to be filled tonight when two neighboring schools—East Liverpool and Midland—square off in a basketball game which has district prestige at stake.

Never has there been a more appropriate setting for an East Liverpool-Midland battle with both teams undefeated.

Tonight's backyard rivalry must be called a tossup, with height, ability, etc. virtually even. Action will get under way at 7 when the reserve squads meet.

The preliminary game also should be an interesting one. Midland's reserve squad has won five in six starts, losing only to Beaver Falls last Friday night. Prior to that game, the Leopard Jayvees had posted 22 straight victories. Coach Frank Chan's club is 2-0.

Before practice began Thursday morning at the M-A, Coach Jim Harris sized the game this way: "If we beat Midland, we will have to stop Aloi. He is the key to their offense."

About every club Midland has beaten this season has found this to be true. Al Aloi, a 6-foot senior, will bring an average of 22 points per game to the M-A.

Harris plans to assign Gary "Huck" Steffen, his defensive star, to Aloi.

Steffen turned in an outstanding defensive game in the season's opener with Alliance.

Coach Hank Kuzma, who usually has success following him, has guided his charges to six straight victories, but in order to give tonight's game that undefeated setting Midland had to go into an overtime to turn back a strong Aliquippa squad, 66-58, on the Midland boards last Tuesday night.

—:—

KUZMA will admit that the most impressive victories turned in by his boys were over Aliquippa and Beaver Falls.

The Aliquippa game was played at Midland and so were the victories over Burgettstown, Westinghouse and Ellwood City. Midland defeated Ambridge and Beaver Falls away from home.

There are others beside Aloi who have played an important part in Midland's success. There is the all-around defensive play, ball-stealing antics and scoring of Rich Lake and the superb rebounding of Sam Forester, 6-foot-1½, and Bill Sallis, 6-foot-2.

KUZMA'S other starter probably will be Harry Petrosky, a 5-foot-11 senior. Earl Vaughn, sparkplug in the Aliquippa game, will be ready for early duty.

The game could turn into a shooting match between Aloi and the Potters' Jack Deshler, a fine outside shot.

The Potters, in their two games, have been both hot and cold. They displayed mid-season form in an opening victory over Alliance two weeks ago, but last Friday night against Warren came up with numerous mistakes but managed to squeeze by, 52-49.

WHILE DESHLER can hit well from the outside, the Potters must depend on their overall balance. Dean Cline, a 6-foot junior, has shown he can carry a heavy scoring load, but was slowed by a chest cold in the Warren game.

Steffen is being counted upon for his defensive ability, while Dave Harriel and Ed Prentice could make the difference in the game with their rebounding.

HARRIEL probably turned in the best performance by any Potter at Warren when he pulled down his share of rebounds and also found time to hold Warren's 6-foot-7 center, Jim Gardner to only 14 points.

Frank McComas, a bright young sophomore, will be on hand for early duty if needed by Harris.

After tonight, the Potters face another stiff test Saturday at Massillon when they go after their third straight Big 8 victory. The tipoff at Massillon is scheduled for about 8:15, after a 7 p.m. reserve contest.

The Tigers, not as mighty on the basketball court as on the football field, have a 1-3 record. The only victory recorded by Massillon was a one-point verdict over Warren last Saturday night.

North, South Squads Taper Off For Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—North and South squads tapered off today in practice for their Christmas night charity football game in the Orange Bowl.

It was a relative rest for the arms of the South's busy passers.

The Rebels have emphasized the aerial end of the game since practice sessions began.

"It has been our policy," said South coach John Bridgers of Baylor, "to keep at least one ball in the air at all times."

The North found a passing combination, Eddie Wilson of Arizona to Bennie McRae of Michigan State, which it hopes will effectively counter the South's passer Bobby Ply, from Baylor, and ends Bill Miller of Miami and Johnny Burrell of Rice.

Rens Drive Into First

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Pipers have lost their lead in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League and the way things are going, it may not be too long before Kansas City loses its grip in the west.

The Pittsburgh Rens, with Connie Hawkins scoring 32 points and dominating the rebounding, whipped Kansas City 91-86 Thursday night at Kansas City and took a half-game lead in the Eastern race when Chicago surprised Cleveland, 113-112.

A byproduct of the Kansas City loss was the cutting of the Steers' once hefty Western Division lead to 1½ games over streaking Los Angeles. The Jets of Bill Sharman picked up another full game by making the Washington Tapers their seventh straight victim, 102-96, at Washington.

Kansas City also got the jolting news that Larry Comley, steady scoring youngster from Kansas State, will be inducted into the army Jan. 5.

Bethany's Late Attack Spills N. Cumberland

BETHANY — New Cumberland kept abreast for three quarters, but couldn't keep up with a 34-point fourth period and fell to Bethany, 85-61, here Thursday night.

The loss was New Cumberland's fifth in eight starts while Bethany now shows a 4-2 mark.

A 33-point performance by Ed Mitchell, a 5-foot-11 senior, and Morris Main's 23 markers came close to matching New Cumberland's total output.

Bethany led 38-32 at halftime, but the Blue Raiders put on a determined bid and moved to within three points, 51-48, after three quarters.

George Myers, New Cumberland's 6-foot-4 senior, pumped in 20 points to lead the attack. Ken Freshwater added 16 and Gary Nardo 15.

Blanda, Chargers Star Share Honors In AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston Oiler's quarterback Georga Blanda and defensive end Earl Faison of the San Diego Chargers, two players who may see a lot of each other in Sunday's American Football League title game, were accorded the two top player designations in their league today.

In an Associated Press poll, a special board picked Blanda, 33, as player of the year and Faison, a 256-pounder from Newport News, Va., as the loop's rookie.

Blanda, who spent 10 years as a pro with the Chicago Bears, got only slight competition from halfback Billy Cannon and end Charley Hennigan of his Eastern Division champion Oilers. Faison won in a breeze over Charley Long of Boston and tackle Ken Rice of the Buffalo Bills.

Coaches Have Other Worries . . .

The outcome of tonight's East Liverpool-Midland battle at Memorial Auditorium probably will mean more to the loyal backers of the respective teams than to the coaches themselves.

Naturally, all coaches want to win regardless of the importance of the game, but you can be sure that coach Jim Harris of the Potters and Hank Kuzma of the Leopards are looking ahead to future wars when league competition is involved.

Harris admits, "If we have to lose one of the two games this weekend, I would rather lose the game with Midland." Jim, a real competitor at all times, means that Saturday's game with Massillon can mean more in the long run since it is a Big 8 Conference affair and the Potters can gain much more prestige throughout Ohio by winning that one.

And Kuzma is directing his team through its usual exhibition season before the rugged Pennsylvania Sectional play gets under way. Midland's championship season won't begin until Jan. 2 when the Leopards take the floor in their first Section 8 test against Hopewell.

There's one thing that should not be forgotten, however: The team winding up on the losing end will be knocked out of a chance for an undefeated season.

So when the loyal fans begin screaming and the inter-city rivalry reaches its peak you can be sure that both coaches will be going all out for victory, league competition or no league competition.

HARRIS, in his third year as head coach at East Liverpool, is off to his best start.

A year ago the Potters lost the opener, while a year before they won their opener but dropped the season's second contest to Wellsville.

See Home Floor Advantage . . .

WE'RE USING the cyrstal ball again in predicting the winner of tonight's game.

The ball has been clouded for some time, but — as in the past— clears up on the day of a big game. From this corner, it is East Liverpool to nip Midland by three points.

Our prediction is based on the strength of the home floor. We feel the teams are that evenly matched. If the game was being played in Midland, the Leopards would be our choice. From past performances, we never have seen Midland play its best on the M-A floor. Tonight could be different, naturally.

In Saturday's game at Massillon, we will stick with the Potters again by an eight-poirt advantage.

Two other games this weekend involve Wellsville. We are picking the Tigers by wide margins tonight at Beaver Local and Saturday at Lisbon.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WHEN Salem defeated East Palestine Tuesday night it marked the 300th victory in the career for coach John Cabas.

His career includes coaching Columbiana to a stage Class "B" runnerup spot in 1945 and to the state title in 1947. Cabas went to Salem in 1950 and since then has won 170 games while losing 58.

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Jim Potts and Ray ('Beau') Bell of East Palestine received varsity awards at Bowling Green following the completion of the football season. Potts, home from Bowling Green for the holidays, enjoyed the trip to Los Angeles and the Mercy Bowl, but quickly admitted that the Falcons played their worst game in his three years when they were drubbed by Fresno State.

JIM KAPP, a former Bill Booth Award winner, received another award at Wooster College recently for his help in practice and off the field during the Scots football campaign.

Jim was injured last season and was not permitted to play anymore football, so he became a student assistant coach. He was the first to receive such an award presented by Phil Shipe, head football coach at Wooster.

Gaydos Stars; Beavers Wait Tigers

Tom McCall received his Christmas gift three days early Thursday night when his game Beaver Local five presented him with his first victory as head coach.

The win was a come-from-behind triumph for the underrated Beavers who edged Newell, 64-60, on the Beaver Local floor.

Beaver Local will take a 1-1 record against arch rival Wellsville in tonight's game set for the Williamsport gym.

Trailing 51-43 going into the fourth quarter, the Beavers, with a balanced attack, caught the Vikings and then passed them in the closing minutes. The loss was Newell's third in five starts.

Four Beaver Local starters finished in the double figures led by George Gaydos, a junior, who poured in 18. John Broadbent flipped in an important 12 points while Rich Aluilus scored 11 and John Baker 10.

McCall's squad had to overcome a one-two scoring punch of veteran Mick Staley who tallied 26 and the district's leading scorer Dave Bell who hit for 21.

Beaver Local trailed at the end of the first quarter, 13-10, but came on to grab a 30-28 lead at halftime. Newell, with Staley and Bell pounding the nets, took a 51-43 advantage after three periods which was later relinquished.

Both teams lost important figures late in the fourth quarter when Gaydos went the foul route for the Beavers and Bell left the game about the same time.

Coach John Pape's Beaver Local reserve squad defeated the Newell jayvees, 39-22.

Browns Invest New $ High In Rookie; Davis To Sign

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ernie Davis "sacrificed a very substantial sum of money" in accepting an offer to play with the Cleveland Browns, according to attorney Anthony W. DeFilippo, adviser to the All-America halfback from Syracuse.

Arthur B. Modell, front-office boss for the Browns, announced Thursday night that Davis had agreed to sign a three-year contract with the Browns for $80,000—$65,000 salary plus a $15,000 bonus. This is the most the Browns ever have invested in a rookie, but Jim Brown, who reportedly received $31,000 this year still is the highest paid player on the club.

The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League also were bidding for Davis, and Dick Gallagher, general manager of the Bills, said Davis had been offered a three-year deal worth "well over $100,000." Reports were the Buffalo offer was worth $135,000.

Modell was delighted.

"There just aren't words to express my happiness now that Ernie has decided to play with us," the board chairman of the National Football League club declared. "It's certainly gratifying to know that young athletes like Davis consider their long-range future rather than immediate financial gain."

Brown preceded Davis at Syracuse, and many of the records the big fullback set there were broken by the 6-foot-2, 215-pound Davis.

It was on Brown's advice that Davis went to Syracuse, and Brown presented the NFL club's case when Davis was trying to make up his mind on a pro career.

Modell and coach Paul E. Brown had been sweating out that decision. The Browns have gambled quite a bit on being able to sign Davis. Cleveland traded speedy Bobby Mitchell and a first-round draft choice to the Washington Redskins to get a chance at Davis.

The Redskins, with first choice at the nation's collegiate talent in the NFL draft early this month, took Davis for Cleveland, and the Browns, drafting farther down the line, took Leroy Jackson, Western Illinois halfback, for Washington. If Cleveland had failed to sign Davis, Mitchell still would have gone to Washington.

Davis is on the West Coast working out with the East team for the East-West Shrine game a week from Saturday. Modell said he will fly to San Francisco next week to get Davis' signature on the contract.

Cincy Starts New Streak By Routing Colorado Five

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Everybody thinks we're a much improved team over last year," Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp was saying. "I hope to find out in this tournament just how good we are."

Rupp, who is supposed to be in a rebuilding year, referred to the Kentucky Invitational that opens tonight with Kansas State and Xavier meeting in the first game at Lexington, Ky., and the host Wildcats going against Tennessee.

It marks the second major test for the Wildcats, attempting to rebound from last season's 19-9 record, the worst in 32 years under Rupp.

In Thursday night's top games, second-ranked Cincinnati bombed Colorado 84-67 on the Bearcats' home court, eighth-ranked Purdue outlasted Evansville 83-77 and Wichita's tough Shockers knocked Santa Clara from the unbeaten ranks, 60-48.

Cincinnati (6-1) used a first half scoring burst, triggered by sophomores George Wilson and Ron Bonham, to establish a 42-20 lead and coasted in from there. Colorado's Ken Charlton led all scorers with 23 points while Paul Hogue had 20 for the winners.

Purdue (5-1), beaten from the floor, used free throw accuracy and experience as the keys to its victory over Evansville's homestanding Aces. Purdue hit 29 of 30 free throws while the young Aces converted only 19 of 34.

In other major games, Georgia Tech surprised Missouri 58-57 at Atlanta; Homestanding Syracuse lost its sixth straight, 74-63 to Pitt; Creighton unleashed a devastating first half attack in crushing Rice 91-57 at Omaha; Bradley romped over touring Brown 89-62; Iowa punished Nevada 88-46 in Nevada's last game of a Midwest trip; Oklahoma State beat Colorado State 60-44; and Utah State stretched its unbeaten string to eight with a 77-64 triumph over Pacific University.

4 Motorists Fined In Court At Palestine

A district man and one from Wellsville were among four area drivers fined for traffic violations by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday.

Thomas Donley, 517 Campground Rd., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs for passing at an intersection, and Thomas Trevor of near Calcutta $10 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Mildred Lewis of Rogers was fined $10 and costs for driving left of center, and Walter Callahan, 606 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, $10 and costs for illegal passing.

Warden Seeks Owner Of Hound Hurt By Car

Dog Warden Robert Croyle today was seeking to trace the ownership of a Basset hound which was found injured early this morning on Pennsylvania Ave. near Wedgewood St., apparently the victim of an auto.

Through an Allegheny County dog tag on the animal's collar, Croyle traced the dog to J. L. Zagrapan of Breckenridge, Pa. The Allegheny County dog license bureau was to notify Zagrapan and find if he still is the owner.

Croyle took the dog to a veterinarian for treatment. The animal could not stand, but it did not appear to have any broken bones, he said. The dog may have escaped from the owner's car when it was halted in East Liverpool, he theorized.

Red Tape, Tax Laws Delay Marriage Of Teacher, Flier

NEW HOLSTEIN, Wis. (AP)—Red tape and Wisconsin's tax problems now are delaying the marriage of schoolteacher Barbara Hipke and her airman fiance Kenneth Driskill.

The couple became engaged in Tripoli. Barbara, 28, was teaching school in Libya and Kenneth, 24, was assigned to the Wheelus Air Force Base. They planned to meet in New York last Monday and to be married there. But they missed connections.

They were united at a Milwaukee bus station Wednesday night and came to Barbara's home here only to run into other difficulties.

The red tape involved their marriage license and Wisconsin's law that blood tests are needed before anyone can be married.

The couple's blood tests had to be sent to Madison. They cannot be expected back until Saturday.

The tax problem involves Barbara's father, Gilbert Hipke, who is a Republican assemblyman and is tied down at the legislative session at Madison because of a hassle there over the state's tax program.

"If my father is back from Madison by Saturday, we can get a judge Saturday to waive the waiting period," Barbara said. "But with our luck, we will probably have to wait the whole five days."

Wisconsin has a five-day waiting period before a marriage but it can be waived.

Airman Driskill is slated to to leave for Japan early in the year. Barbara would like to go with him—as his wife.

Air Force Charges Officer In Giving Data To Red Agent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has charged a decorated officer with giving U.S. military information to foreign agents during a visit to Germany last year.

The officer, Capt. Joseph P. Kauffman, 43, has been returned to Germany for investigation.

The foreign power involved was not identified, but it was believed to be a Communist country.

The Air Force said Thursday the investigations now under way will determine if Kauffman, a finance officer who holds the Bronze Star and several other World War II and Korean War decorations, will be tried before a court-martial.

The four alleged violations reported by the Air Force in response to inquiries were:

1. Conspiring with foreign agents to communicate U.S. defense information to a foreign country on or about October 1960.

2. "Wrongly" communicating information relative to the national defense with reason to believe the information would be to the advantage of a foreign nation.

3. Failure to notify his commander of attempts by foreign agents to get him to reveal security information.

4. Falsifying answers to a questioner by "denying that he had been employed by a foreign government or any agency of a foreign government."

The Air Force said the information allegedly handed to foreign agents concerned personnel and installations where Kauffman had been stationed.

Kauffman, a bachelor, was born in Rutland, Vt.

Council At Weirton Enacts 'Blue Law' Bill

WEIRTON — A "Blue Laws" ordinance, patterned after a section of the West Virginia code, was passed on final reading by a unanimous 7-0 vote of City Council Thursday night.

Effective Jan. 20, the ordinance "prohibits the employment of persons on Sunday, excepting household or other work of necessity, or charity."

Council's action followed arrests the past three Sundays of managers and employes of city discount stores by Brooke and Hancock County sheriff's deputies on charges of Sunday sales. The warrants were obtained by other city businessmen opposed to Sunday sales.

Snow, Sleet Close Roads In 3 States

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet and rain blown with cutting force by winds up to 97 miles an hour swept down the northern Rockies today, closing highways in three states.

A cold front erased balmy temperatures and produced weird variety of weather that included lightning storms and rain.

Northern Montana was hardest hit, but winds triggered a series of snowslides that closed two major highways in western Wyoming.

In Colorado, winds up to 62 miles an hour smashed signs and windows and overturned two light airplanes—both with occupants — on runways at Denver. No one was hurt seriously.

The first full day of the winter season also brought wintry weather to many other sections of the country.

Light snow fell across northern areas from Montana eastward through the Dakotas into the Upper Mississippi Valley. Snow and cold hit broad sections from the Great Lakes through Michigan into northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania and northeastward through interior parts of New York and New England.

Temperatures ranged from 2 to 8 below in the snow-covered interior sections of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, about the only below zero readings in the snow belt. Readings dropped sharply in Montana, ranging from 5 to 15 above.

The cold air also extended into the southeast and freezing weather was reported again this morning as far south as southern Georgia, with temperatures in the 30s in interior sections of northern Florida.

sists that the tension over Berlin is all of Soviet making and therefore the Soviets must take the first steps toward easing it.

In the field of nuclear testing, Kennedy and Macmillan heard reports by their experts on the recent Soviet tests and what the experts have been able to deduce from them about Soviet advances in development of nuclear weapons.

Salinger said the discussion did not extend to policies — whether the United States should resume testing in the atmosphere—but it was felt the conversation may have strengthened Kennedy's hand with fearful European allies if he decides the United States must resume testing above ground to counter Soviet advances.

One source of tension between the two Western allies was eased by reports of an accord reached in the Congo between Premier Cyrille Adoula of the Leopoldville government and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga.

The United States has staunchly supported the United Nations military action in secessionist Katanga while Britain has been critical of the fighting.

A joint communique issued after the first talk said the information on the Congo "is still very scanty," but added: "We must hope that a satisfactory solution is in the course of achievement on the spot."

The group also authorized organization of a "50-Cent-a-Month Club," with members of the association and residents of the community asked to contribute toward fire department operations. Joe Arcuragi, president, will be in charge.

Plans were discussed for a community New Year's Eve party. The committee will be Leonard Congrove, Don Reed, Harry Reckner and E. H. Chestnut.

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes killed one man and overcame seven others in a rural Woodville home Thursday.

Woodville Fire Chief Tom Hathaway said the flue in the propane gas-fed hot air furnace at the home of Eivan Weihrouch had become clogged, allowing the fumes to escape into the house.

The victims had gathered at the home Wednesday night after Weihrouch, 65, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and was taken to St. Charles Hospital at Toledo.

Ray Aleshire of Gibsonburg, a nephew of Weihrouch, discovered the mishap when he investigated after his parents did not return from the uncle's home.

Nelson Spanfellner, 32, of Woodville was dead and the other persons in the house were unconscious.

Taken to St. Charles Hospital were:

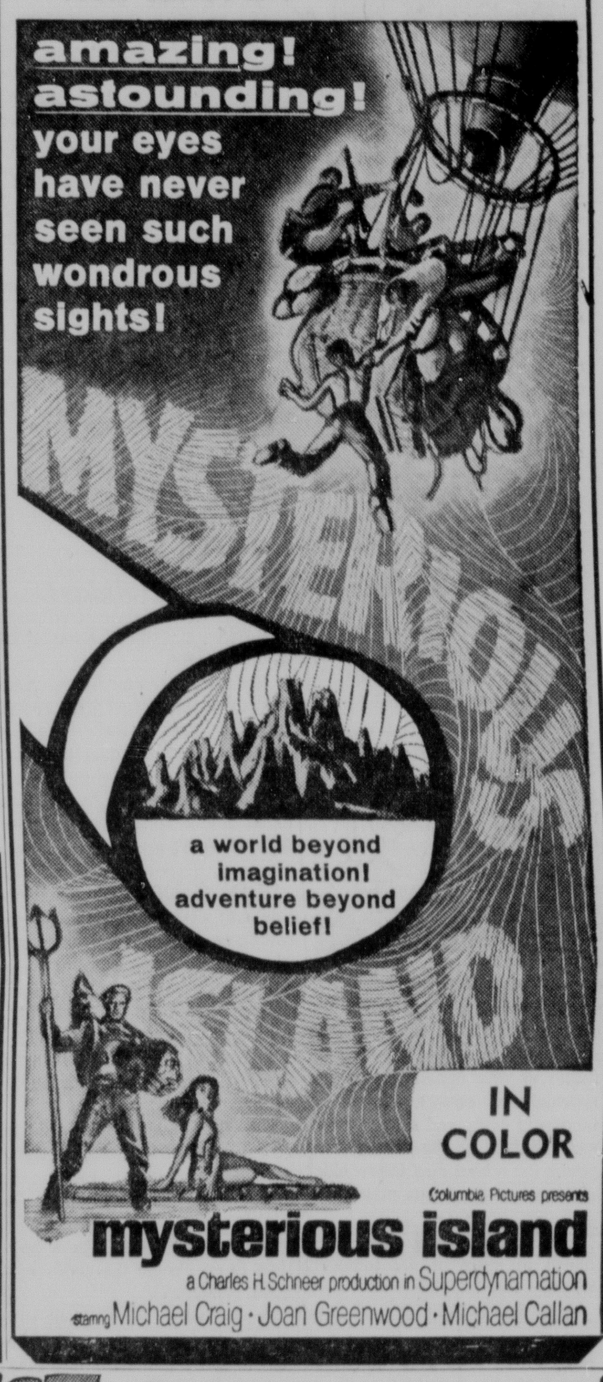

Spanfeller's wife, Marjorie, 29, and their daughter, Deborah, 4; Weihrouch's wife, Ada, 64; Vibert Weihrouch, brother of Eivan, and his wife, Alice, both 55; Mrs. Chloe Aleshire, 50, sister of the Weihrouch brothers, and her husband, Edward, 60.

Snow, Sleet Close Roads In 3 States

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet and rain blown with cutting force by winds up to 97 miles an hour swept down the northern Rockies today, closing highways in three states.

A cold front erased balmy temperatures and produced weird variety of weather that included lightning storms and rain.

Northern Montana was hardest hit, but winds triggered a series of snowslides that closed two major highways in western Wyoming.

In Colorado, winds up to 62 miles an hour smashed signs and windows and overturned two light airplanes—both with occupants — on runways at Denver. No one was hurt seriously.

The first full day of the winter season also brought wintry weather to many other sections of the country.

Light snow fell across northern areas from Montana eastward through the Dakotas into the Upper Mississippi Valley. Snow and cold hit broad sections from the Great Lakes through Michigan into northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania and northeastward through interior parts of New York and New England.

Temperatures ranged from 2 to 8 below in the snow-covered interior sections of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, about the only below zero readings in the snow belt. Readings dropped sharply in Montana, ranging from 5 to 15 above.

The cold air also extended into the southeast and freezing weather was reported again this morning as far south as southern Georgia, with temperatures in the 30s in interior sections of northern Florida.

Talks

sists that the tension over Berlin is all of Soviet making and therefore the Soviets must take the first steps toward easing it.

In the field of nuclear testing, Kennedy and Macmillan heard reports by their experts on the recent Soviet tests and what the experts have been able to deduce from them about Soviet advances in development of nuclear weapons.

Salinger said the discussion did not extend to policies — whether the United States should resume testing in the atmosphere—but it was felt the conversation may have strengthened Kennedy's hand with fearful European allies if he decides the United States must resume testing above ground to counter Soviet advances.

One source of tension between the two Western allies was eased by reports of an accord reached in the Congo between Premier Cyrille Adoula of the Leopoldville government and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga.

The United States has staunchly supported the United Nations military action in secessionist Katanga while Britain has been critical of the fighting.

A joint communique issued after the first talk said the information on the Congo "is still very scanty," but added: "We must hope that a satisfactory solution is in the course of achievement on the spot."

Addition Set For Fire Hall

The Glenmoor Firemen's Association Thursday night signed an $11,000 contract with Boyd Lumber Co. for construction of an addition at the rear of the fire station and remodeling of the front.

The addition will provide facilities for community meetings and affairs, firemen said. Work on the project is expected to get under way shortly.

The group also authorized organization of a "50-Cent-a-Month Club," with members of the association and residents of the community asked to contribute toward fire department operations. Joe Arcuragi, president, will be in charge.

Plans were discussed for a community New Year's Eve party. The committee will be Leonard Congrove, Don Reed, Harry Reckner and E. H. Chestnut.

About 15 attended. Next meeting is Jan. 4.

Fumes Claim One, Make 7 Others Ill

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes killed one man and overcame seven others in a rural Woodville home Thursday.

Woodville Fire Chief Tom Hathaway said the flue in the propane gas-fed hot air furnace at the home of Eivan Weihrouch had become clogged, allowing the fumes to escape into the house.

The victims had gathered at the home Wednesday night after Weihrouch, 65, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and was taken to St. Charles Hospital at Toledo.

Ray Aleshire of Gibsonburg, a nephew of Weihrouch, discovered the mishap when he investigated after his parents did not return from the uncle's home.

Nelson Spanfellner, 32, of Woodville was dead and the other persons in the house were unconscious.

Taken to St. Charles Hospital were:

Spanfeller's wife, Marjorie, 29, and their daughter, Deborah, 4; Weihrouch's wife, Ada, 64; Vibert Weihrouch, brother of Eivan, and his wife, Alice, both 55; Mrs. Chloe Aleshire, 50, sister of the Weihrouch brothers, and her husband, Edward, 60.

Teen-Ager Turns Taunt Into Challenge

Tubby teens, what would you do if a boy teasingly called you "Fatty"? Would you sulk and then eat a banana split to sooth your hurt feelings? Or would you turn this into an activating challenge?

Ida Jean Kain

One teen-ager wrote: "I was crushed when a boy I knew jokingly said, 'Fatty can't get up the hill!' His remark jolted me! But it forced me to face the fact that I was a Fatty ... and draggin' my wagon with 25 extra pounds. I'd tried dieting, lots of times, but I never stuck with it.

"That day a new resolve was born in my heart ... to cut all the junk foods and to stop stuffing at meals. I found myself wanting to eat just to be doing something — so I turned on the music and exercised.

"THE EXERCISE helped me to feel alive and purposeful. Soon I felt less bulky. Tell tubby teens that swinging to music is a gay way to get back in shape.

"I'm 16, 5 feet 5 and now weigh 125 pounds. That's a lot better than 148! When I could run up the hill I thanked that boy!"

What a girl! Teens, if you can turn teasing into a challenge, you've got what it takes to turn bulges to bygones ... and be a winner.

Don't try to "diet", eat sensibly and do as our heroine did, cut out the assorted sweets and soft drinks. Stop stuffing at meals. Have a serving of everything on the main course, but no seconds.

Eat lean meat, vegetables and salad. When you eat a potato, skip the bread at that meal. Stop spreading gravy gloriously over all. You don't need gravy calories. Have fruit in place of rich dessert.

When you reach your teens, you are growing up and the motivation to reduce, or to make any constructive change in your life, must come from within yourself.

Whip into shape-ups. You will feel peppier and happier, and soon, slimmer. Here's a routine that's fun and slimming.

—:—

FROM THE SAME position, swing top leg, making wide circles from hip, ten circles one direction, ten in opposite. Change sides, repeat. Still from same position... swing under leg briskly forward, top leg back ... back and forth a dozen times. Change sides and repeat.

Get a move on ... soon you can beat them all to the top of the hill!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Regulate Your Child During Holidays

When the Christmas holidays end, many parents feel grateful to the school for taking the children back again. Often these holidays mean great emotional strain for parents, even for children. If the weather is bad and the children remain indoors, they may grow bored, noisy, even quarrelsome. Unless you can effect desirable regulations, other children may crowd in and add to the confusion in your home. Overeating, especially of sweets, may mean increased colds and slight illnesses. Toddlers in the family too young for school may follow older children to dangerous places.

Dr. Garry Meyers

THESE PROBLEMS may be reduced in some of the following ways:

Limit the amount of sweets the children may have. Map out a program of work and recreation, especially for the children six to 12. Hold them strictly to regular chores and family routines.

Provide a daily quiet period of an hour or so each afternoon with no other children around so that your children can read or play non-running games. Keep radio and TV silent.

Work out a reasonable program for the whole week. Forbid rough-housing indoors, and when the children's noise or quarreling exceed your reasonable endurance, separate them or assign each one to sit for a definite period, unamused. Don't argue; be decisive.

IF SNOW AND ICE are available, one of you parents might go skating or coasting with the young school-agers or find them safe places to do so alone. You might also take them to museums and the library, even on a hiking trip.

While the older children are home, they might be induced to read to the younger ones.

The older children may want to go out every night. Consider some regulations here.

It's hardly the best period for adult parties or for many parties for the youngsters. It is a good time to encourage the children in good handcrafts.

Try to have a few evenings with your own family alone. In addition to group games, family reading can be profitable.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child" and "Enjoying Our Children", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

West Virginia Labor Group Undecided On Pipeline Issue

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Labor Federation, AFL-CIO, stresses that it has not chosen sides in the coal pipeline controversy.

"The state AFL-CIO. . .has not taken a definite position," the December issue of "News and Views," the federation's official organ, said.

Gov. Barron said recently he plans to ask the 1962 Legislature to grant land condemnation rights to coal pipeline companies to facilitate the building of such a line between northern West Virginia's coal fields and eastern markets.

Subsequently, the national AFL-CIO convention in Florida denounced such legislation. And there were reports that the state organization would go along with the convention action.

But "News and Views" says the current discussion among state three factors:

"That more facts should be available and that more serious consideration should be given the plan than was apparent at the national. . . convention.

"That additional jobs created for construction workers, steel mills and other material supplies and coal miners may offset any loss.

"And that the economic impact of a revitalized coal industry may outweigh any railroad reverses, real or imagined."

Railroads oppose pipelines, contending they would result in a loss of coal-hauling business.

Tiffin Family Of 5 Left Homeless In Fire

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—A suburban Tiffin couple and their three children were left homeless early today after fire destroyed their seven-room house a mile south on Ohio 53.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Weller and their children, ranging in age from six to nine, escaped the flames.

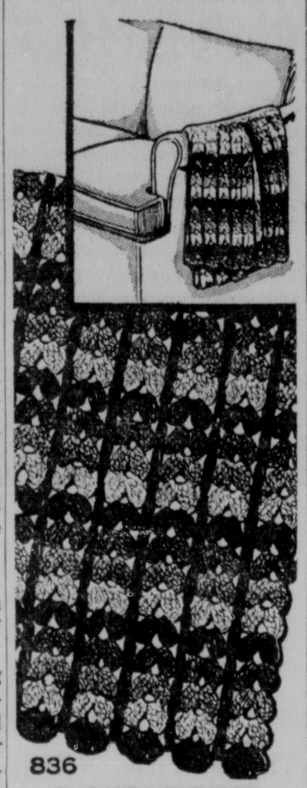

Volunteer firemen from New Riegel and Bascom were credited with saving two nearby homes. Ray Theis, New Reigel fire chief, estimated damage at $25,000. Cause of the blaze which broke out in the basement, was undetermined.

Cab Drivers To Vote On Union Affiliation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Drivers for taxicabs of Cincinnati, Inc., will vote in the near future whether they want to be represented by local 954 of the Teamsters, local 954 of the Greater Cincinnati Independent Taxicab Drivers Union, or no union, the National Labor Relations Board announced today.

The independent union was set up last August after the cab drivers joined the revolt against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa led by Jakes Luken. About 4,000 Cincinnati Teamsters in four unions voted to quit the international.

Rockefeller Says Search For Son Ends–No Trace

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced "with deep regret" Thursday that a search for his youngest son Michael, 23, who was lost off the coast of New Guinea had been ended and no trace of him has been found.

Rockefeller said he has been notified by the government of New Guinea that "the search has been brought to an end."

Michael Rockefeller last was seen Nov. 19, when he plunged into waters off the coast of New Guinea from a disabled boat. He was on an anthropological expedition in search of primitive art in a remote, uncivilized section of New Guinea.

The governor flew to New Guinea and joined the search by plane and boat.

Christmas Package Sparks Bomb Scare

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A brightly wrapped Christmas package touched off a bomb scare when it was found outside the rear of a large clothing store in a suburban Kettering shopping center Thursday.

Clerk Alice Elkins, who found the package said she opened it to try to determine who the owner was. Inside she discovered the makings of what appeared to be a bomb. Police summoned a demolition crew from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. They dismantled a timing device connected to a flashlight battery and to a five-inch railroad fusee (a kind of flare). But demolition men said the contraption was harmless.

2 Face New Trial For Attacking Woman

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—William Keels, 20, and Herbert Harris Jr., 21, Columbus Negroes, will stand trial again next year after a jury failed to reach a verdict Thursday night on charges they raped a 22-year-old white mother.

The two were accused of allegedly forcing the West Jefferson area woman into their car at knifepoint as she walked along a highway to get gasoline for her car the night of Oct. 2, and then criminally assaulting her. Arrested five days later, the men admitted the sexual relations but denied it was rape.

Postal Officials Cite Improper Yule Cards

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Postal officials here say that each day they are tearing up 8,000 to 10,000 Christmas greeting cards sent with three-cent stamps. The reasons are that such letters are either sealed, improperly addressed or the addressee did not guarantee forwarding postage when he moved out of town.

There is no provision for returning cards to senders when they are mailed with three-cent stamps. So they are being shredded. "We don't even open them up first to see if there's any money inside," said Postmaster Hugh T. Albright, explaining that would take too many man hours.

Highest winning score during the 1961 PGA tour was the 284 total by Jack Burke when he won at Flint, Mich., last summer.

Teen-Ager Turns Taunt Into Challenge

Tubby teens, what would you do if a boy teasingly called you "Fatty"? Would you sulk and then eat a banana split to sooth your hurt feelings? Or would you turn this into an activating challenge?

Ida Jean Kain

One teenager wrote: "I was crushed when a boy I knew jokingly said, 'Fatty can't get up the hill!' His remark jolted me! But it forced me to face the fact that I was a Fatty ... and draggin' my wagon with 25 extra pounds. I'd tried dieting, lots of times, but I never stuck with it.

"That day a new resolve was born in my heart ... to cut all the junk foods and to stop stuffing at meals. I found myself wanting to eat just to be doing something — so I turned on the music and exercised.

"THE EXERCISE helped me to feel alive and purposeful. Soon I felt less bulky. Tell tubby teens that swinging to music is a gay way to get back in shape.

"I'm 16, 5 feet 5 and now weigh 125 pounds. That's a lot better than 148! When I could run up the hill I thanked that boy!"

What a girl! Teens, if you can turn teasing into a challenge, you've got what it takes to turn bulges to bygones ... and be a winner.

Don't try to "diet", eat sensibly and do as our heroine did, cut out the assorted sweets and soft drinks. Stop stuffing at meals. Have a serving of everything on the main course, but no seconds.

Eat lean meat, vegetables and salad. When you eat a potato, skip the bread at that meal. Stop spreading gravy gloriously over all. You don't need gravy calories. Have fruit in place of rich dessert.

When you reach your teens, you are growing up and the motivation to reduce, or to make any constructive change in your life, must come from within yourself.

Whip into shape-ups. You will feel peppier and happier, and soon, slimmer. Here's a routine that's fun and slimming.

Action: Swing! Swing left leg forward, then to the rear and forward again. H-o-l-d, on the second rear swing. Repeat routine four complete times, change sides, repeat. Relax.

—:—

FROM THE SAME position, swing top leg, making wide circles from hip, ten circles one direction, ten in opposite. Change sides, repeat. Still from same position... swing under leg briskly forward, top leg back ... back and forth a dozen times. Change sides and repeat.

Get a move on ... soon you can beat them all to the top of the hill!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Regulate Your Child During Holidays

When the Christmas holidays end, many parents feel grateful to the school for taking the children back again. Often these holidays mean great emotional strain for parenis, even for children. If the weather is bad and the children remain indoors, they may grow bored, noisy, even quarrelsome. Unless you can effect desirable regulations, other children may crowd in and add to the confusion in your home. Overeating, especially of sweets, may mean increased colds and slight illnesses. Toddlers in the family too young for school may follow older children to dangerous places.

THESE PROBLEMS may be reduced in some of the following ways:

Limit the amount of sweets the children may have. Map out a program of work and recreation, especially for the children six to 12. Hold them strictly to regular chores and family routines.

Provide a daily quiet period of an hour or so each afternoon with no other children around so that your children can read or play non-running games. Keep radio and TV silent.

Work out a reasonable program for the whole week. Forbid roughhousing indoors, and when the children's noise or quarreling exceed your reasonable endurance, separate them or assign each one to sit for a definite period, unamused. Don't argue; be decisive.

IF SNOW AND ICE are available, one of you parents might go skating or coasting with the young school-agers or find them safe places to do so alone. You might also take them to museums and the library, even on a hiking trip.

While the older children are home, they might be induced to read to the younger ones.

The older children may want to go out every night. Consider some regulations here.

It's hardly the best period for adult parties or for many parties for the youngsters. It is a good time to encourage the children in good handcrafts.

Try to have a few evenings with your own family alone. In addition to group games, family reading can be profitable.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child" and "Enjoying Our Children", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

West Virginia Labor Group Undecided On Pipeline Issue

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Labor Federation, AFL-CIO, stresses that it has not chosen sides in the coal pipeline controversy.

"The state AFL-CIO. . .has not taken a definite position," the December issue of "News and Views," the federation's official organ, said.

Gov. Barron said recently he plans to ask the 1962 Legislature to grant land condemnation rights to coal pipeline companies to facilitate the building of such a line between northern West Virginia's coal fields and eastern markets.

Subsequently, the national AFL-CIO convention in Florida denounced such legislation. And there were reports that the state organization would go along with the convention action.

But "News and Views" says the current discussion among state three factors:

"That more facts should be available and that more serious consideration should be given the plan than was apparent at the national. . . convention.

"That additional jobs created for construction workers, steel mills and other material supplies and coal miners may offset any loss.

"And that the economic impact of a revitalized coal industry may outweigh any railroad reverses, real or imagined."

Railroads oppose pipelines, contending they would result in a loss of coal-hauling business.

Tiffin Family Of 5 Left Homeless In Fire

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—A suburban Tiffin couple and their three children were left homeless early today after fire destroyed their seven-room house a mile south on Ohio 53.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Weller and their children, ranging in age from six to nine, escaped the flames.

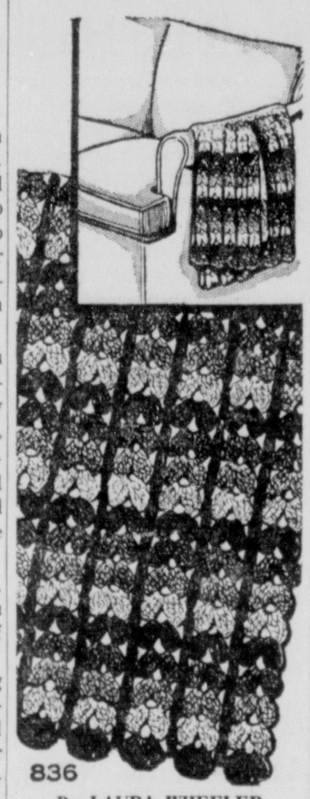

Volunteer firemen from New Riegel and Bascom were credited with saving two nearby homes. Ray Theis, New Reigel fire chief, estimated damage at $25,000. Cause of the blaze which broke out in the basement, was undetermined.

Cab Drivers To Vote On Union Affiliation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Drivers for taxicabs of Cincinnati, Inc., will vote in the near future whether they want to be represented by local 954 of the Teamsters, local 954 of the Greater Cincinnati Independent Taxicab Drivers Union, or no union, the National Labor Relations Board announced today.

The independent union was set up last August after the cab drivers joined the revolt against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa led by Jakes Lufken. About 4,000 Cincinnati Teamsters in four unions voted to quit the international.

Rockefeller Says Search For Son Ends–No Trace

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced "with deep regret" Thursday that a search for his youngest son Michael, 23, who was lost off the coast of New Guinea had been ended and no trace of him has been found.

Rockefeller said he has been notified by the government of New Guinea that "the search has been brought to an end."

Michael Rockefeller last was seen Nov. 19, when he plunged into waters off the coast of New Guinea from a disabled boat. He was on an anthropological expedition in search of primitive art in a remote, uncivilized section of New Guinea.

The governor flew to New Guinea and joined the search by plane and boat.

Christmas Package Sparks Bomb Scare

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A brightly wrapped Christmas package touched off a bomb scare when it was found outside the rear of a large clothing store in a suburban Kettering shopping center Thursday.

Clerk Alice Elkins, who found the package said she opened it to try to determine who the owner was. Inside she discovered the makings of what appeared to be a bomb. Police summoned a demolition crew from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. They dismantled a timing device connected to a flashlight battery and to a five-inch railroad fusee (a kind of flare). But demolition men said the contraption was harmless.

2 Face New Trial For Attacking Woman

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—William Keels, 20, and Herbert Harris Jr., 21, Columbus Negroes, will stand trial again next year after a jury failed to reach a verdict Thursday night on charges they raped a 22-year-old white mother.

The two were accused of allegedly forcing the West Jefferson area woman into their car at knifepoint as she walked along a highway to get gasoline for her car the night of Oct. 2, and then criminally assaulting her. Arrested five days later, the men admitted the sexual relations but denied it was rape.

Postal Officials Cite Improper Yule Cards

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Postal officials here say that each day they are tearing up 8,000 to 10,000 Christmas greeting cards sent with three-cent stamps. The reasons are that such letters are either sealed, improperly addressed or the addressee did not guarantee forwarding postage when he moved out of town.

There is no provision for returning cards to senders when they are mailed with three-cent stamps. So they are being shredded. "We don't even open them up first to see if there's any money inside," said Postmaster Hugh T. Albright, explaining that would take too many man hours.

Highest winning score during the 1961 PGA tour was the 284 total by Jack Burke when he won at Flint, Mich., last summer.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean felt and velour hats?

A. Ordinary wallpaper cleaner will usually do a good job. Break off a small piece of the cleaner, knead it in the hands until soft, then rub well over the hat, and the dirt will roll off. Brush well with a good whiskbroom to remove the crumbs.

Q. How can I rid some of my plants of aphids?

A. Save the soapy water when you wash your stockings or undies at night. In the morning, when the water is cool, pour it over the plant and soil.

Q. How can I clean my blackened andirons?

A. You can remove andiron deposits with white gasoline (used outdoors, of course!), followed by kitchen cleanser. Complete the cleaning with some metal polish. Clean any pitted areas with a vinegar-salt solution — then rinse quickly.

Q. How can I make the slicing of butter or margarine into neat squares much easier?

A. Fold the paper in which the butter comes over the blade of your knife, and cut with this. It will make a smooth slice, and the butter will not cling or stick to your knife.

Q. How can I make wallpaper washable?

A. Go over the wallpaper first with sizing, then with a clear shellac. After this treatment, a damp cloth will clean it easily.

Q. How can I freshen the "furry" side of a fur pelt?

A. You can freshen the fur to a certain extent by rubbing with a cloth dipped in soapy water and wrung out thoroughly. A more thorough effect is obtained by moistening cornmeal with cleaning fluid, rubbing this well into the fur, and then brushing it out.

Try A Casserole Dinner For A Quick Dish

There's no doubt about it; casserole cookery is a great favorite with today's good cooks. It's not difficult to account for the affectionate regard which busy homemakers, and family members of all ages, have for these flavorsome, taste - tempting meal - in - a - dish combinations.

Their spicy, aromatic odors, perfuming the kitchen is a happy greeting for the homecoming family whose appetites have been sharpened by the afternoon's activities.

Choose the first brisk day to offer your family this mouth-wateringly good easy-on-the cook casserole, which will have forks quickly raised in anticipation and wreaths of smiles as plates are passed for seconds.

West Lights 800 Yule Trees Along Reds' Wall Each Night

BERLIN (AP)—More than 800 huge Christmas trees are lit each dusk along the Western side of the Communist wall through Berlin.

On the East Berlin side of the barrier nothing matches this pre-Christmas atmosphere.

There are Christmas decorations, lighted trees and all, deeper inside East Berlin at the shopping centers. But along the Communist side of the 25 miles of concrete and barbed wire there are only three spindly fir trees set up by the East German guards.

One, at Elsenstrasse between the Soviet and American sectors, is stuck into a low, concrete road barrier. It has no lights, no decorations.

In the background a powerful battery of Red loudspeakers blares out Communist propaganda slogans interrupted by popular German—and some American — Christmas songs.

"You in West Berlin will be able to celebrate a peaceful Christmas because we built the wall to ward off any provocations," a shrill voice announces.

Then come "Silent Night" and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" with German lyrics.

One of the many West Berlin Christmas trees stands at the dead end of Harzerstrasse.

East German border police occasionally hurl bricks at it. "They have missed so far," the lone West Berlin policeman on duty said.

Police report that at least five of the 800 trees set up by various West German organizations have been damaged by brick-throwing Red guards at other points.

Midland Group Gets $1,000 United Fund

The Midland High School Recreation League has been allocated $1,000 for 1962 by the directors of the Beaver County United Funds.

It is one of 16 local agencies which will receive allocations along with 25 countywide service organizations, the directors said.

The 1962 appropriations of $656,070 is an increase of $92,975 over the allocations made for this year, James A. Dunn, fund president, said.

Dies In Hospital

Intersection Toll Listed

The Ohio Department of Highways has announced the number of reported traffic accidents at Yellow Creek as compiled by the Department of Highway Safety.

Robert E. Conner, acting engineer of the Bureau of Traffic, said 10 mishaps were reported from the spring of 1959 to last summer at the junction of Routes 7 and 213 south of Wellsville.

The 10 crashes resulted in three fatalities and nine injuries from April 1959 through August 1961.

A break-down of the figures shows four accidents with three deaths and five injuries in 1959, four crashes with three injured in 1960, and two crashes with one injured in the first eight months of 1961.

The department is currently installing overhead lighting and additional flashing amber warning lights at the intersection to improve traffic conditions during periods of low visibility, Conner said.

"Additional improvements to minimize the fog hazard are also under consideration," he added.

Everett S. Preston, director, has promised an engineering study will be made at Yellow Creek to determine what type improvements are needed to eliminate traffic dangers. He announced the plan at a meeting earlier this month with five Jefferson County residents.

DeMolays Finish Plans For Dance

Joe Blankenship outlined final plans for the Christmas dance at a meeting of the Harding Chapter of the Order of DeMolay Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple.

The dance will be held Saturday night at the temple.

The group is also preparing a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Robert Kidd, a dad and scribe of the Advisory Board, presented Roger Hicks with a blue honor key, an award from the International Supreme Council for obtaining 10 new members.

Homer Hoffman, a dad, talked on the "Five-Star Builder Program" for getting new members.

Mark Wilson reported on the basketball game and Ed Carnes on the sweetheart committee.

Two petitions for membership were accepted. Brent English recited his initiatory and DeMolay degree obligations.

Next meeting is Jan. 4.

what's new at Olsen's?

"The Magic of Christmas"

"Ollie Olsen"

The magic of Christmas is sometimes the simple soft glow of remembrance — the gift that doesn't say as much as it means. Give the gift that is personally perfect . . . as personal as your own Christmas magic.

Just one more day to finish your Christmas shopping. For all your last miunte needs — Shop at Olsen's — where there's a wonderful assortment of those little gifts. For Aunt Mary there's loads of sparkling jewelry, for that nice little lady down the street whom you just about forgot, there's gloves, hosiery, and many other small gift items.

We found so many different gift ideas in Olsen's accessory department that we spent almost the entire evening brousing around. We were particularly delighted with the new handbags (a gift that every woman appreciates.) We were simply mad about all the new shapes and styles. Huge tote bags, classic east and west bags, vagabonds and satchels, clutch and vanity are just a few of the many styles. In the smoothest of leather, tapestry, faille or marshmallow leather. Every one a gem of a bag, in color to match up with your new shoes and gloves. Fashion experts say that a woman's fashion sense is judged by the accessories she wears.

Have you seen the fabulous new Knits at Olsen's? Fashion's big smash of the season. The easy-going casual appeal in every line of these fabulous wool knits. So many places to go, so easy to accessorize, or wear them as is for basic impact. Keep their shape and shed wrinkles, wonderfully packable for traveling. Smooth and lean or blouson and beautiful; the knits have all the best lines this season. Newest ideas that will keep you ahead of the crowd with their fashion awareness. Many look not a whit like a knit — yet all possess its marvelous no-wrinkle, long-wearing qualities.

We were especially impressed with one of the many we saw at Olsen's. Smooth double woven sheath with plain jewel neck line and modified winged sleeve — so beautiful with this season's sparkling jewelry—and priced at only $19.79. Try this one and we'll bet you'll want more. There's so many styles to choose from, too.

We saw four different styles in the ever-popular 3 piece suit — matching jacket and skirt with contrasting blouse. A novelty sculptured knit sheath, with long sleeves and high jewel neck. We fell in love with every style. What a marvelous Christmas gift for wife or sweetheart. A gift that will last many seasons, one that she will like better each and every time she wears it. If you want to see her eyes shine on Christmas morn gift her with one of these knits that are different. In sizes 10-18 or 7-15. In all the most wanted colors—black beige, turquoise, and navy.

Don't forget Olsen's are open tonight and tomorrow night for your last minute shopping. May you all have a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

On the East Berlin side of the barrier nothing matches this pre-Christmas atmosphere.

There are Christmas decorations, lighted trees and all, deeper inside East Berlin at the shopping centers. But along the Communist side of the 25 miles of concrete and barbed wire there are only three spindly fir trees set up by the East German guards.

One, at Elsenstrasse between the Soviet and American sectors, is stuck into a low, concrete road barrier. It has no lights, no decorations.

In the background a powerful battery of Red loudspeakers blares out Communist propaganda slogans interrupted by popular German—and some American — Christmas songs.

"You in West Berlin will be able to celebrate a peaceful Christmas because we built the wall to ward off any provocations," a shrill voice announces.

Then come "Silent Night" and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" with German lyrics.

One of the many West Berlin Christmas trees stands at the dead end of Harzerstrasse.

East German border police occasionally hurl bricks at it. "They have missed so far," the lone West Berlin policeman on duty said.

Police report that at least five of the 800 trees set up by various West German organizations have been damaged by brick-throwing Red guards at other points.

In West Berlin, up to the wall, there is the usual pre-Christmas bustle. Busy shoppers hurry home with armfuls of parcels.

Midland Group Gets $1,000 United Fund

The Midland High School Recreation League has been allocated $1,000 for 1962 by the directors of the Beaver County United Funds.

It is one of 16 local agencies which will receive allocations along with 25 countywide service organizations, the directors said.

The 1962 appropriations of $656,070 is an increase of $92,975 over the allocations made for this year, James A. Dunn, fund president, said.

Dies In Hospital

Intersection Toll Listed

The Ohio Department of Highways has announced the number of reported traffic accidents at Yellow Creek as compiled by the Department of Highway Safety.

Robert E. Conner, acting engineer of the Bureau of Traffic, said 10 mishaps were reported from the spring of 1959 to last summer at the junction of Routes 7 and 213 south of Wellsville.

The 10 crashes resulted in three fatalities and nine injuries from April 1959 through August 1961.

A break-down of the figures shows four accidents with three deaths and five injuries in 1959, four crashes with three injured in 1960, and two crashes with one injured in the first eight months of 1961.

The department is currently installing overhead lighting and additional flashing amber warning lights at the intersection to improve traffic conditions during periods of low visibility, Conner said.

"Additional improvements to minimize the fog hazard are also under consideration," he added.

Everett S. Preston, director, has promised an engineering study will be made at Yellow Creek to determine what type improvements are needed to eliminate traffic dangers. He announced the plan at a meeting earlier this month with five Jefferson County residents.

DeMolays Finish Plans For Dance

Joe Blankenship outlined final plans for the Christmas dance at a meeting of the Harding Chapter of the Order of DeMolay Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple.

The dance will be held Saturday night at the temple.

The group is also preparing a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Robert Kidd, a dad and scribe of the Advisory Board, presented Roger Hicks with a blue honor key, an award from the International Supreme Council for obtaining 10 new members.

Homer Hoffman, a dad, talked on the "Five-Star Builder Program" for getting new members.

Mark Wilson reported on the basketball game and Ed Carnes on the sweetheart committee.

Two petitions for membership were accepted. Brent English recited his initiatory and DeMolay degree obligations.

The roll call of officers was read by Roger Hicks, scribe. Dale Hoffman, master councilor, presided in the East.

Next meeting is Jan. 4.

what's new at Olsen's?

"Ollie Olsen"

"The Magic of Christmas"

The magic of Christmas is sometimes the simple soft glow of remembrance — the gift that doesn't say as much as it means. Give the gift that is personally perfect . . . as personal as your own Christmas magic.

Just one more day to finish your Christmas shopping. For all your last miunte needs — Shop at Olsen's — where there's a wonderful assortment of those little gifts. For Aunt Mary there's loads of sparkling jewelry, for that nice little lady down the street whom you just about forgot, there's gloves, hosiery, and many other small gift items.

We found so many different gift ideas in Olsen's accessory department that we spent almost the entire evening brousing around. We were particularly delighted with the new handbags (a gift that every woman appreciates.) We were simply mad about all the new shapes and styles. Huge tote bags, classic east and west bags, vagabonds and satchels, clutch and vanity are just a few of the many styles. In the smoothest of leather, tapestry, faille or marshmallow leather. Every one a gem of a bag, in color to match up with your new shoes and gloves. Fashion experts say that a woman's fashion sense is judged by the accessories she wears.

Have you seen the fabulous new Knits at Olsen's? Fashion's big smash of the season. The easy-going casual appeal in every line of these fabulous wool knits. So many places to go, so easy to accessorize, or wear them as is for basic impact. Keep their shape and shed wrinkles, wonderfully packable for traveling. Smooth and lean or blouson and beautiful; the knits have all the best lines this season. Newest ideas that will keep you ahead of the crowd with their fashion awareness. Many look not a whit like a knit — yet all possess its marvelous no-wrinkle, long-wearing qualities.

We were especially impressed with one of the many we saw at Olsen's. Smooth double woven sheath with plain jewel neck line and modified winged sleeve — so beautiful with this season's sparkling jewelry—and priced at only $19.79. Try this one and we'll bet you'll want more. There's so many styles to choose from, too.

We saw four different styles in the ever-popular 3 piece suit — matching jacket and skirt with contrasting blouse. A novelty sculptured knit sheath, with long sleeves and high jewel neck. We fell in love with every style. What a marvelous Christmas gift for wife or sweetheart. A gift that will last many seasons, one that she will like better each and every time she wears it. If you want to see her eyes shine on Christmas morn gift her with one of these knits that are different. In sizes 10-18 or 7-15. In all the most wanted colors—black beige, turquoise, and navy.

Don't forget Olsen's are open tonight and tomorrow night for your last minute shopping. May you all have a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
